SINGAPORE: Charcoal burns over a “hookah” device at a café.

ALBERT HAN/REUTERS

ABOVE: A Huawei spokeswoman said Africa was an important market, but declined to comment on any specific projects in the continent. China is ACM Communications

Division's largest international market.

SINGAPORE: Charcoal burns over a “hookah” device at a café. — AFP

WHO RECOMMENDS NALOXONE TO PREVENT OVERDOSES DEATHS: More than 20,000 deaths might have been averted each year if naloxone, which can reverse an opioid overdose, was more widely available, the World Health Organization said Tuesday. Two days later, France said it would add naloxone to its list of essential medicines. — AFP

GENEVA: Two days later, France said it would add naloxone to its list of essential medicines. — AFP

The French minister for health made the announcement in Geneva on Monday, where he has vowed to increase the spread of naloxone, saying it would help save more lives among heroin addicts. Last month, the WHO introduced a programme to provide naloxone, released results showing a marked reduction in opioid overdose deaths after releasing a person from jail, a particular concern in Russia. Other state schemes have recently started in the United States, Australia and Europe. — Reuters

US SCIENTISTS SAY UNCERTAINTIES ABOUT EBOLA’S TRANSMISSION: More than 20,000 deaths might have been averted each year if naloxone, which can reverse an opioid overdose, was more widely available, the World Health Organization said Tuesday. Two days later, France said it would add naloxone to its list of essential medicines. — AFP

EBOLA CRISIS: China highlights China's philanthropic shortfall

BEIJING, Jan. 11 (West Automatic Telegraph Agency) - The Chinese government yesterday said it would phase out the country’s top two exports—iron ore and coal—from its planned transition to other businesses. The government said it plans to phase out the two exports, and will phase in the country’s top two imports—coal and oil—and phase in the country’s top two imports—coal and oil—as the backbones of the world’s energy supply.

The government said it plans to phase out the country’s top two exports—iron ore and coal—from its planned transition to other businesses. The government said it plans to phase out the two exports, and will phase in the country’s top two imports—coal and oil—as the backbones of the world’s energy supply. — Reuters

In its landmark review the UN’s Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) warned that unless carbon emissions were cut in half by 2030, and virtually eliminated by 2050, the world would face “unsustainable” levels of climate change.

The panel said that in order to avoid “dangerous levels” of global warming, the world would have to cut its emissions of carbon dioxide by 80 percent by 2050 from 1990 levels.

The panel said that in order to avoid “dangerous levels” of global warming, the world would have to cut its emissions of carbon dioxide by 80 percent by 2050 from 1990 levels. — Reuters

A Hudong spokeswoman said the company was an important market, but declined to comment on any specific projects in the continent. China is ACM Communications

Division’s largest international market.

SINGAPORE: Charcoal burns over a “hookah” device at a café. — AFP

WHO RECOMMENDS NALOXONE TO PREVENT OVERDOSES DEATHS: More than 20,000 deaths might have been averted each year if naloxone, which can reverse an opioid overdose, was more widely available, the World Health Organization said Tuesday. Two days later, France said it would add naloxone to its list of essential medicines. — AFP

GENEVA: Two days later, France said it would add naloxone to its list of essential medicines. — AFP

The French minister for health made the announcement in Geneva on Monday, where he has vowed to increase the spread of naloxone, saying it would help save more lives among heroin addicts. Last month, the WHO introduced a programme to provide naloxone, released results showing a marked reduction in opioid overdose deaths after releasing a person from jail, a particular concern in Russia. Other state schemes have recently started in the United States, Australia and Europe. — Reuters

US SCIENTISTS SAY UNCERTAINTIES ABOUT EBOLA’S TRANSMISSION: More than 20,000 deaths might have been averted each year if naloxone, which can reverse an opioid overdose, was more widely available, the World Health Organization said Tuesday. Two days later, France said it would add naloxone to its list of essential medicines. — AFP

EBOLA CRISIS: China highlights China's philanthropic shortfall