BOWAIR'S RECENT BOOK DEDICATED TO HONORING AMIR AS HUMANITY LEADER

The Department of Music and Drama at the American University of Kuwait (AUK) held an open talk and documentary screening of “Umm Kulthum: A Voice Like Egypt” on October 19th, 2014 in cooperation with the Kuwaiti authorities and the Curator of the University Archive. As a specialist in Middle Eastern music, Danielson noted that “A Voice Like Egypt” is the first documentary about Umm Kulthum, the legendary Egyptian singer, bringing to life a legendary figure who became a legendary singer of wealth and fame, but also connects her life and music to the history and politics of Egypt during a period of great change.

The book, Bowair’s latest, has written 8 of his 9 books about members of the Kuwaiti political history and is mainly a biography researcher. His book “Khalid Al-Jabri: A Life Like Egypt” was published in 2013 by the American University of Kuwait Press. In his new book, Bowair explores the life of one of the most prominent Arab leaders of the 20th century: HH the Amir, Sheikh Sabah Al-Ahmed Al-Jaber Al-Sabah, who has written about the Amir as a regionally and internationally acclaimed figure who has been a driving force behind Kuwait’s modernization and development.
