BMW, MINI and Rolls-Royce motor American automobile designer. He also serves as a member of the Board of Directors at the High Museum of Art in Atlanta.

Christian Philippsen
Christian Philippsen, Louis Vuitton's Chief Art Director, is an automotive design and events organizer. He has organized many Classic Cars Events in the world of car collecting and preservation, and is well known among a large number of his clients as an art director.

Ken Gress
Ken Gress is the author of several books on classic cars, including “The Collector Car Price Guide,” “The Collector Car Price Guide: Under $40,000,” and “The Collector Car Price Guide: Over $40,000.” He is also a regular contributor to Car and Driver Magazine and has written for such publications as Motor Trend, Autoweek, and Road & Track.

Mark Reuss
Mark Reuss is the current President of General Motors. He was previously the President of GM North America, responsible for all of GM’s North American manufacturing and sales operations. Prior to that, he served as President of GM International, overseeing GM’s operations in more than 30 countries around the world.

Rony Karmen
Rony Karmen is the former CEO of Ferrari, where he served as President from the three-year-old to today. He is known for his many and varied contributions to the automotive industry, including the design of several iconic models such as the 365 GTB/4 Daytona and the 250 GTO.

Rony Karmen
Rony Karmen is the former CEO of Ferrari, where he served as President from the three-year-old to today. He is known for his many and varied contributions to the automotive industry, including the design of several iconic models such as the 365 GTB/4 Daytona and the 250 GTO.

Rony Karmen
Rony Karmen is the former CEO of Ferrari, where he served as President from the three-year-old to today. He is known for his many and varied contributions to the automotive industry, including the design of several iconic models such as the 365 GTB/4 Daytona and the 250 GTO.