STAR TRACK

Aries (March 21-April 19)

Although profound resistance to your plans can stop you in your tracks today, don't give up on a good idea just because someone tells you it has no merit. If you don't understand why you are running into trouble, stop and listen carefully to the message of the Cancer New Moon as it floods your 4th House of Security. Obstacles are more easily handled once you accept that your current fear of change is unwarranted. Ironically, it's less important to reach your destination now than it is to fine-tune your plans. Safety comes first.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

Although you probably have a overcrowded calendar while the Cancer New Moon rocks your 3rd House of Immediate Environment, it's still tough to shift into gear. At first, you're tempted to get by with doing less but your energy builds steam throughout the day, enabling you to overcome anything that stands in your path once you find your pace. Just remember you're not the only person with an ambitious agenda and intriguing ideas. Staying open to new information from a variety of sources can dramatically change your perspective and increase your options.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

It's all too easy to waste time running around in circles just trying to keep up with the hectic pace of events. But unless you slow down and reconnect with your core values today you may not feel satisfied with your objectives while the Cancer New Moon emphasizes your 2nd House of Self-Esteem. Proceed with caution now; taking time for contemplation should not be thought of as a retreat. In fact, you could jeopardize your success if you continue to move too fast. Remember, reaching your goals is more like a marathon than a sprint.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)

The emotional New Moon in your sign is an early warning sign of an energetic shift that's unfolding at home or within your family. You might choose to hide your head in the sand, only to be shocked by what happens. Or, perhaps you're trying to co-create your future by living the change you seek. Start by creating a list of resolutions, as if today is New Year's Day. Focusing your positive intentions during the New Moon plants significant seeds of thought in your fertile imagination.

Leo (July 23-August 22)

Today's Cancer New Moon is a fresh start, but this new beginning falls in your 12th House of Endings, revealing an ironic blending of two cycles. But beginning a new phase prior to completing old business can be extremely problematic for everyone involved. Allow the current process to play out naturally or you might miss your chance to get the closure you need. Your best bet is to stay aware of the relationship between what you are finishing and what you hope to do next.

Virgo (August 23-September 22)

You may feel uncomfortably isolated while the moody Cancer New Moon shakes up your 11th House of Community. People that you can usually count on are nowhere to be found when you go searching for advice today. Thankfully, your real friends will come through in the nick of time with the support that you need. But don't draw conclusions prematurely; give others the benefit of the doubt instead of assuming the worst.

Libra (September 23-October 22)

You may feel pressured to make a career move today as the Cancer New Moon highlights your 10th House of Career. But a relatively minor family crisis might add stress to your day, especially if you're already involved in a disagreement with another family member. You won't be happy if someone tries to take control of the situation now, but you should heed their advice, nonetheless. Don't throw the baby out with the bathwater; be astute enough to show your ability to discern what's useful from what is not.

Scorpio (October 23-November 21)

Building emotional continuity in your life is an admirable goal, but it may come with a component of drama now that the moody Cancer New Moon stirs up trouble in your 9th House of Big Ideas. You may be happy to know who you are and where you are heading. But your drive can be so intense now that you feel compelled to stand up for your beliefs. Tread carefully, for you could inadvertently provoke a conflict by resorting to aggressive behavior. Instead, channel your passion into physical activities instead.

Sagittarius (November 22-December 21)

You might be unsure about your evolving direction because the Cancer New Moon rattles your 8th House of Transformation, evoking a sense of discomfort by pushing you to explore feelings that you would rather forget. Don't belittle a friend's melodrama by judging it so trivial that you don't have to get involved. Your willingness to partake in a meaningful dialogue may be exactly what's required to take a relationship to a new level of intimacy.

Capricorn (December 22-January 19)

An overly emotional interaction with a friend or partner reveals that he or she has more to tell you now than you previously thought. There may be a suppressed issue lurking in the background as the Cancer New Moon occurs in your 7th House of Relationships. Unfortunately, you might not know what to do about the imbalance. Direct confrontation could make matters worse. But letting it slide ends up contributing to the negative energy. The conversation will be awkward at first, but you can make a positive difference if you talk about your uneasiness without blaming anyone else.

Aquarius (January 20- February 18)

You aren't necessarily aware of harboring any resentments about your job, but it's not that simple to let go of an unresolved hurt. Fortunately, you have a pretty good grasp of the source of your current negativity if you are willing to be honest. The Cancer New Moon's presence in your 6th House of Logistics gives you a clear picture of what you must do next. Be open to receiving emotional support from people who have your best interests at heart. Leaning on loved ones gives you the strength to process your feelings and get on with the real work at hand.

Pisces (February 19-March 20)

You can finally stand and hold your ground after an extended period of uncertainty. But your feelings are more complex than they seem on the surface now that the cautious Cancer New Moon lands in your 5th House of Self-Expression. Don't over-compensate with false bravado; there's no logical justification for flaunting your victory. Nothing is gained by creating a competitive environment where others are threatened by your success. Softening your stance helps to relieve tension and return harmony back to your relationship world.
