STAR TRACK

Aries (March 21-April 19)

Nothing is gained by turning every molehill you encounter into a mountain. The problem is you're viewing the world through a magnifying lens that's set to high power, and even the tiniest details assume epic proportions now. Obviously, it's challenging to navigate a path when it's nearly impossible to discern which things are the most important. Remain open to what you learn from your intuition, but don't make any major decisions until you possess a sound analytical perspective on the current events.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

You need to stretch a bit further to grab the wonderful opportunities for self-expression and personal growth that are calling your name now. However, you must be careful about wandering down the garden path with over-the-top expectations. Others may suggest ideas that sound perfect, but they might prove less beneficial once put into action. Wearing rose-colored glasses will only lead to disappointment today, especially when your impulses are running wild. Releasing any thoughts of a preconceived outcome empowers your inner child to come out and play.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

Your home life may be a rich source of love and support as you present an image of abundance to your family. Regardless of the professional opportunities knocking at your door now, your personal life remains your top consideration. In fact, you might be contemplating the purchase of a new house or remodeling your current residence. In any event, keeping your priorities straight is wiser than just automatically saying yes to the next rung on the ladder of success.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)

Your circles of communication are growing as a new wave of fascinating people flows into your life. However, you may encounter significant resistance that originates from your own unexpressed fears. Luckily, your current optimism outweighs your nagging concerns. Your dreams of the future are fueling your desire to get it right in the present moment. Narrowing your focus might be difficult at first, but it's exactly what you need to do. Make new friends, but keep the old; one is silver, the other is gold.

Leo (July 23-August 22)

You are more determined than ever to acquire what you believe you deserve from life, but you might want to check yourself before you get your priorities twisted. Dreamy Neptune opposes excessive Jupiter in your 2nd House of Resources now, inflating the importance of money and material possessions. Nevertheless, the real significance of these worldly traps is not found in their dollar value, but in the good they can do for others. Happiness ultimately comes from the joy you spread when you share your abundance with those you love. Your generosity knows no bounds.

Virgo (August 23-September 22)

Relationships are your primary source of inspiration these days, but they may also be the cause of too much confusion. Most likely, you will experience some of both feelings today as ephemeral Neptune attracts the clouds of illusion and the mists of fantasy. Luckily, your penchant for personal growth can overcome even the murkiest of situations now. It's going to take more than a little fog to make you drop anchor. Where there's a will, there's a way; it might not be clear where you are going, but you'll get there, nonetheless.

Libra (September 23-October 22)

Big things are happening for you now, but not necessarily in the outer world where they can be seen. Your transformation is occurring in the spiritual and metaphysical dimensions, even if you're not consciously aware of it. Nevertheless, frustration about your lack of progress may set in if you're feeling lost at work. Don't worry; the very same lessons you are learning now will pay off in ways that you can't yet imagine. Roll the cosmic dice and see where they land.

Scorpio (October 23-November 21)

Your path to emotional satisfaction is being paved in social realms now as working and playing with others take on a greater importance. But your current popularity can be slightly disorienting if your personal needs are subsumed by the agendas of those around you. Don't let the unknown rattle your confidence. Focus on the potential camaraderie you can experience today instead of worrying about your individual needs. The more the merrier; life's joys and sorrows are meant to be shared.

Sagittarius (November 22-December 21)

Do you know what it feels like when you're stopped at a traffic light and the car next to you has huge speakers with the bass turned up outrageously high? Everything shakes and reverberates, fraying your nerves and offending your ears. The volume on your life is so loud now that it may keep you from fully enjoying the goodies that are waiting on your doorstep. But you can't soundproof your life, so you might as well tap your foot to the beat of the music, even if you didn't choose the song. Life is what you make it.

Capricorn (December 22-January 19)

Your friends and coworkers don't know you as well as they think they do. Although they might see your industrious side, they're surprised with your current disinterest in racing to the top of the next summit. Nevertheless, you're more driven to explore the meaning of life now than to reach the next level of success. Thankfully, you don't need to sacrifice your worldly ambitions to pursue spiritual goals. Balancing the sacred with the mundane offers your soul true satisfaction.

Aquarius (January 20-February 18)

You are usually quite clearheaded about your direction, your values and your skills. However, it's more complicated to get a handle on your life now for reasons you can't fathom. Even if you stand directly in front of a full length mirror and gaze for a long time today, you're still not going to capture an accurate picture of who you are or what you are worth. Save the self-judgments for another day. When the universe invites you to dance, say yes now and ask questions later.

Pisces (February 19-March 20)

You will likely receive the help you want if you can overcome your insatiable need for perfection now. In fact, nearly all one-on-one encounters are already destined to be more fulfilling than normal. However, there is danger afoot; your imagination may be spinning out of control and it's tough to know which feelings to act on. If you come on too strong, your motives could be easily misinterpreted. Continue to search for that sweet spot as you work at separating your desires from the undisputed truth.
