

Aries (March 21-April 19)

People may have the best of intentions today, but their abrupt criticism can catalyze your thinking and set you off in a radical new direction. However, you must listen closely to what others say now because you could easily misinterpret something based on what you want to believe rather than what is actually said. Ask for clarification before you jump to any incorrect conclusions. You might hear a whole different story the second time around.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

You suddenly realize today there's more work to do on a project that you thought was already finished long ago. If you glossed over what you believed was an insignificant detail, you may be required to go back and put things in order while Mercury is retrograde in your 6th House of Logistics. But seeking recognition for your extra efforts now will only bring frustration. Luckily, if you play your cards right, you'll get what you deserve later when you least expect it.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

You could be ambivalent about romance as logical Mercury turns backward in your 5th House of Love and Play. One thing is for certain: you want to have fun, but you just don't know the best way to make it happen. Thankfully, it isn't necessary to figure everything out today; you're better off making decisions on the fly now. All you need to do is maintain your optimism while remaining ready to change your plans on the spot. Living in the moment gives your creativity a chance to sprout wings.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)

Your personal life takes a surprising twist as an emotionally intense discussion morphs into a close encounter of some kind. It's nearly impossible to know how to define your interactions with others, for you could feel so detached from the drama now that you actually appear to be disinterested. Nevertheless, your curiosity may be enough to hook you on an issue while your tenacity helps to keep you in the game.

Leo (July 23-August 22)

Juggling all the appointments on your calendar can hijack your day as you are busy reestablishing connections with people in your social network. You are hopeful that they will support your latest cause, but you might feel let down if your expectations are too high. Remaining flexible now should help you handle a series of unexpected complications with grace and charm. Leading with your sense of humor paves the way for more meaningful communication down the road.

Virgo (August 23-September 22)

Pay close attention to your key planet Mercury as he begins dancing backward in your 2nd House of Money today. You might try to compensate for your past indulgences by watching every penny you spend. But problems could stem from the littlest of errors now, rather than a significant budgetary crisis. If you recently have been remiss in paying your bills or sloppy when balancing your accounts, this would be the perfect time to get it right. A bit of due diligence on your part will have your financial house in order before you know it.

Libra (September 23-October 22)

You are particularly susceptible to the current retrograde of Mercury as he languishes in your ambiguous sign. You may start off a sentence with one idea in mind and finish it with another. Watch your words so you don't inadvertently offend someone you like with a half-baked opinion that slips out accidentally. No matter how profusely you apologize, you can't rewind the moment and take back what's already been said. If you can't say something nice, don't say anything at all.

Scorpio (October 23-November 21)

You can quickly work yourself into an uncomfortable position where you must obstinately cling to an idea to prove your point. However, it's just as likely to be someone else who is the bullheaded one today. Don't draw conclusions before you have all the data you need or you might find yourself making an incorrect assumption which, naturally, will lead you to the wrong answer. If you can exercise patience and give everyone the benefit of the doubt, everything else will fall into place in its own sweet time.

Sagittarius (November 22-December 21)

Getting down to business today takes a healthy dose of self-discipline because there's too much commotion in the air to hear yourself think. Even your workmates seem to be wandering off the straight and narrow path, beckoning at you to join them. However, you can still be highly productive if you keep your mind singularly focused on your chores. If you do have the luxury of some downtime, don't be afraid to escape into a fantasy, a good book or a movie of your own choosing rather than following the crowd.

Capricorn (December 22-January 19)

Leading effectively is a challenging task when others aren't being completely honest with you. Your coworkers might intend to be forthright with their concerns now, but everyone is leery about what's not being said. No doubt, there is surely more going on than meets the eye today, but it's wise to give the process enough time to see where it's heading before you try to redirect it. Sometimes the best way to resolve a dilemma is to just leave it alone.

Aquarius (January 20- February 18)

It may be necessary to reassess your upcoming plans now that Mercury is dragging his heels in your 9th House of Philosophy. If you are longing to delve deeper into a cultural emergence, spiritual pursuit or artistic endeavor, this planetary ride has your name written all over it. There is no time to waste when there is so much to learn. Use the next few weeks to expand your horizons by exploring any ideas and activities that tweak your curiosity or tug at your soul.

Pisces (February 19-March 20)

Experiencing true intimacy becomes more elusive today as mischievous Mercury turns retrograde in your 8th House of Deep Sharing. You're willing to climb out on an emotional limb and reveal a secret that makes you feel vulnerable. But don't struggle with the thought of not being heard if your heartfelt disclosure seems to fall on deaf ears. Those who love you will listen to your message and respond when they are ready. Patience, grasshopper; it takes time for the seed to grow into a flower.
