Gene Wilder, 30 years of laughter

Gene Wilder, who died Monday following a battle with Alzheimer's, left behind a body of work that began 50 years ago and includes some of the greatest ever comedies. Here are 10 of his biggest roles:

1. Death of a Salesman (1966)
   - Oscar Best Supporting Actor nomination for playing Willy Loman. Wilder played the role of Willy Loman. He was cast in the role of Arthur Miller's iconic character in the play "Death of a Salesman," which he starred in in 1966. He was nominated for an Oscar for his performance.

2. Bonnie and Clyde (1967)

   - Oscar Best Supporting Actor nomination for his role in "Young Frankenstein.

   - Oscar Best Supporting Actor nomination for his role in "Hot Shots!"

   - Oscar Best Supporting Actor nomination for his role in "Blazing Saddles.

6. You're a Big Fat Liar (1941)
   - Oscar Best Supporting Actor nomination for his role in "You're a Big Fat Liar.

   - Oscar Best Supporting Actor nomination for his role in "The Adventure of Sherlock Holmes's Smarter Brother.

   - Oscar Best Supporting Actor nomination for his role in "Silver Streak.

   - Oscar Best Supporting Actor nomination for his role in "The Woman in Red.

    - Oscar Best Supporting Actor nomination for his role in "Will and Grace.

Gene Wilder, who died Monday following a battle with Alzheimer's, left behind a body of work that began 50 years ago and includes some of the greatest ever comedies. Here are 10 of his biggest roles: