Kuwait’s inflation up 0.53 percent in September

Kuwaiti inflation rose to 0.53 percent in September from 0.50 percent in August. It was 0.41 percent in July, 0.45 percent in June and 0.61 percent in May, according to the National Planning Authority of the Ministry of Finance.

The consumer price index (CPI), which measures the cost of living, rose 0.53 percent month-on-month in September, according to a data published by the National Planning Authority.

The increase in inflation was driven by higher fuel prices and domestic consumption, according to the authority.

The authority also said that the inflation rate for food rose to 0.46 percent in September from 0.42 percent in August.

Kuwait’s inflation rate has been above the central bank’s target of 0.5 percent for the past three months.

Kuwait’s inflation rate has been above the central bank’s target of 0.5 percent for the past three months.

The National Planning Authority said that the inflation rate for housing and utilities rose to 0.16 percent in September from 0.14 percent in August.

Kuwait’s inflation rate has been above the central bank’s target of 0.5 percent for the past three months.

The National Planning Authority said that the inflation rate for transportation and communication rose to 0.14 percent in September from 0.12 percent in August.

Kuwait’s inflation rate has been above the central bank’s target of 0.5 percent for the past three months.

The National Planning Authority said that the inflation rate for recreation and culture rose to 0.20 percent in September from 0.17 percent in August.

Kuwait’s inflation rate has been above the central bank’s target of 0.5 percent for the past three months.

The National Planning Authority said that the inflation rate for education rose to 0.39 percent year-on-year in September from 0.37 percent in August.

Kuwait’s inflation rate has been above the central bank’s target of 0.5 percent for the past three months.

The National Planning Authority said that the inflation rate for transportation and communication rose to 0.14 percent in September from 0.12 percent in August.

Kuwait’s inflation rate has been above the central bank’s target of 0.5 percent for the past three months.

The National Planning Authority said that the inflation rate for education rose to 0.39 percent year-on-year in September from 0.37 percent in August.

Kuwait’s inflation rate has been above the central bank’s target of 0.5 percent for the past three months.

The National Planning Authority said that the inflation rate for transportation and communication rose to 0.14 percent in September from 0.12 percent in August.

Kuwait’s inflation rate has been above the central bank’s target of 0.5 percent for the past three months.

The National Planning Authority said that the inflation rate for education rose to 0.39 percent year-on-year in September from 0.37 percent in August.

Kuwait’s inflation rate has been above the central bank’s target of 0.5 percent for the past three months.