protests have highlighted Washington's dimin-

Meanwhile, Kuwaiti citizen Mohammed Nayef Al- Kuwait soon, including former MP Jamaan Al-Harbash.

However, Tabtabaei intends to file a petition to get an mother’s funeral, which is characteristic of him,” Tabtabaei

been visiting her son. She had been hospitalized in the

KUWAIT: National Assembly Speaker Marzouq Al-Shammari’s (right) condolences to Mousa Al-Tabtabaei’s family during his mother’s funeral yesterday. — Photo by Yasser Al-Zayyat

Pence avoids top Baghdad leaders during Iraq visit

Baghdad: US Vice President Mike Pence avoided top Iraqi government leaders during a surprise trip yesterday to the country where deadly anti-government protests have highlighted Washington’s dimin-

Iraqi officials told AFP that Pence was not aware Pence was coming to Iraq and had no meeting planned. The US serviceman said it was his only surprise trip to the Mideast since he took office.

The visit ended with a call to end a тысяч year-old ban on female motorists as part of Crown

The ancient kingdom of Ra’aya has yielded its first woman race driver. Prince Abdulaziz bin Turki, the brother of Saudi Arabia’s defense minister, has sent a Princess Reema Juffali to compete in the FIA World Endurance Championship and FIA World Cup for Manufacturers from 2020.

Pence met with Iraqi leaders during his surprise visit, including Prime Minister Abadi of Iraq. Pence told him that the US would support Iraq’s efforts to end the war in Syria.

Pence met with Iraqi President Barham Saleh and Prime Minister Adel Abdul Mahdi.

BAGHDAD, IRAQ: US Vice President Mike Pence (left) is greeted by Kurdistan Prime Minister Nechirvan Barzani at Arbil airport. Pence is visiting Iraq on a three-day trip. The US vice president said he would discuss with Iraqi leaders the fight against ISIS and the need for stability.

She will be allowed to compete as a guest driver in the 24 Hours of Le Mans, one of the world’s top endurance races. The ban was lifted last year and I never expected to race professionally,” she said.

The sources said the new fee will cover medical and radiology tests and treatment. However, the new law does not specify who will be responsible for providing medical care to expatriates, but explained that paying for healthcare for dependents depends on the company they are employed by.

She will be allowed to compete as a guest driver in the 24 Hours of Le Mans, one of the world’s top endurance races. The ban was lifted last year and I never expected to race professionally,” she said.

The sources said the new fee will cover medical and radiology tests and treatment. However, the new law does not specify who will be responsible for providing medical care to expatriates, but explained that paying for healthcare for dependents depends on the company they are employed by.

The ancient kingdom of Ra’aya has yielded its first woman race driver. Prince Abdulaziz bin Turki, the brother of Saudi Arabia’s defense minister, has sent a Princess Reema Juffali to compete in the FIA World Endurance Championship and FIA World Cup for Manufacturers from 2020.

Pence met with Iraqi leaders during his surprise visit, including Prime Minister Abadi of Iraq. Pence told him that the US would support Iraq’s efforts to end the war in Syria.

Pence met with Iraqi President Barham Saleh and Prime Minister Adel Abdul Mahdi.

BAGHDAD, IRAQ: US Vice President Mike Pence (left) is greeted by Kurdistan Prime Minister Nechirvan Barzani at Arbil airport. Pence is visiting Iraq on a three-day trip. The US vice president said he would discuss with Iraqi leaders the fight against ISIS and the need for stability.

She will be allowed to compete as a guest driver in the 24 Hours of Le Mans, one of the world’s top endurance races. The ban was lifted last year and I never expected to race professionally,” she said.

The sources said the new fee will cover medical and radiology tests and treatment. However, the new law does not specify who will be responsible for providing medical care to expatriates, but explained that paying for healthcare for dependents depends on the company they are employed by.

The ancient kingdom of Ra’aya has yielded its first woman race driver. Prince Abdulaziz bin Turki, the brother of Saudi Arabia’s defense minister, has sent a Princess Reema Juffali to compete in the FIA World Endurance Championship and FIA World Cup for Manufacturers from 2020.

Pence met with Iraqi leaders during his surprise visit, including Prime Minister Abadi of Iraq. Pence told him that the US would support Iraq’s efforts to end the war in Syria.

Pence met with Iraqi President Barham Saleh and Prime Minister Adel Abdul Mahdi.

BAGHDAD, IRAQ: US Vice President Mike Pence (left) is greeted by Kurdistan Prime Minister Nechirvan Barzani at Arbil airport. Pence is visiting Iraq on a three-day trip. The US vice president said he would discuss with Iraqi leaders the fight against ISIS and the need for stability.

She will be allowed to compete as a guest driver in the 24 Hours of Le Mans, one of the world’s top endurance races. The ban was lifted last year and I never expected to race professionally,” she said.

The sources said the new fee will cover medical and radiology tests and treatment. However, the new law does not specify who will be responsible for providing medical care to expatriates, but explained that paying for healthcare for dependents depends on the company they are employed by.

The ancient kingdom of Ra’aya has yielded its first woman race driver. Prince Abdulaziz bin Turki, the brother of Saudi Arabia’s defense minister, has sent a Princess Reema Juffali to compete in the FIA World Endurance Championship and FIA World Cup for Manufacturers from 2020.

Pence met with Iraqi leaders during his surprise visit, including Prime Minister Abadi of Iraq. Pence told him that the US would support Iraq’s efforts to end the war in Syria.

Pence met with Iraqi President Barham Saleh and Prime Minister Adel Abdul Mahdi.

BAGHDAD, IRAQ: US Vice President Mike Pence (left) is greeted by Kurdistan Prime Minister Nechirvan Barzani at Arbil airport. Pence is visiting Iraq on a three-day trip. The US vice president said he would discuss with Iraqi leaders the fight against ISIS and the need for stability.

She will be allowed to compete as a guest driver in the 24 Hours of Le Mans, one of the world’s top endurance races. The ban was lifted last year and I never expected to race professionally,” she said.

The sources said the new fee will cover medical and radiology tests and treatment. However, the new law does not specify who will be responsible for providing medical care to expatriates, but explained that paying for healthcare for dependents depends on the company they are employed by.
KUWAIT: Gulf Bank has announced that it is proud to maintain a robust corporate social responsibility program, focusing on sustainability, health, education, national heritage, and the empowerment of Kuwaiti youths. This year, we are excited to host a number of events for our Kuwaiti students, designed to remind them of their primary goal of studying in the US to obtain an education that will enable them to be part of our future and Kuwait’s success.

NBK opens new branch in Farwaniya to replace old location

Gulf Bank sponsors NUKS USA conference

KUWAIT: Gulf Bank has announced that it is proud to support and empower students, as part of its ongoing corporate social responsibility program, focusing on sustainability, health, education, national heritage, and the empowerment of Kuwaiti youths. This year, we are excited to host a number of events for our Kuwaiti students, designed to remind them of their primary goal of studying in the US to obtain an education that will enable them to be part of our future and Kuwait’s success.

NBK opens new branch in Farwaniya to replace old location

Gulf Bank sponsors NUKS USA conference

KUWAIT: Gulf Bank has announced that it is proud to support and empower students, as part of its ongoing corporate social responsibility program, focusing on sustainability, health, education, national heritage, and the empowerment of Kuwaiti youths. This year, we are excited to host a number of events for our Kuwaiti students, designed to remind them of their primary goal of studying in the US to obtain an education that will enable them to be part of our future and Kuwait’s success.

NBK opens new branch in Farwaniya to replace old location

Gulf Bank sponsors NUKS USA conference

KUWAIT: Gulf Bank has announced that it is proud to support and empower students, as part of its ongoing corporate social responsibility program, focusing on sustainability, health, education, national heritage, and the empowerment of Kuwaiti youths. This year, we are excited to host a number of events for our Kuwaiti students, designed to remind them of their primary goal of studying in the US to obtain an education that will enable them to be part of our future and Kuwait’s success.

NBK opens new branch in Farwaniya to replace old location

Gulf Bank sponsors NUKS USA conference

KUWAIT: Gulf Bank has announced that it is proud to support and empower students, as part of its ongoing corporate social responsibility program, focusing on sustainability, health, education, national heritage, and the empowerment of Kuwaiti youths. This year, we are excited to host a number of events for our Kuwaiti students, designed to remind them of their primary goal of studying in the US to obtain an education that will enable them to be part of our future and Kuwait’s success.
By A Saleh

Kuwait: Firefighters battled a blaze that gutted a carpentry workshop in Jleeb Al-Shuyoukh yesterday. The flames cut through the workshop in the morning, forcing the workers to flee.

At a press conference held yesterday, the sources said that 1,249 jobs had been listed in various co-ops pending replacement positions, said informed sources. The sources added that 65% of the jobs were for letting housing units to bachelors in private residential areas.

Yemeni negotiations

Micahelotis, Kuwait's ambassador to France yesterday, said that the Riyadh Agreement will help the restoration of the national dialogue and the UN Security Council resolution of the conflict in Yemen.

Farwaniya houses most ‘bachelors’ in private residences

By A Saleh

KUWAIT: The Ministry of Electricity and Water (MEW) has listed 800 houses for letting housing units to bachelors in private or modeled residential areas, and owners have been warned to evict them or have the electricity supply disconnected. MEW explained that electricity was disconnected in 200 of these houses, while the owners of 200 others legal- ly evicted the tenants without making administrative notifications, noted the Kuwaiti envoy. The Kuwaiti ambassador also praised the government’s efforts to provide housing units for bachelors in private residential areas.

Fire guts Jleeb workshop

By Hanaa Al-Rooman

KUWAIT: Firefighters battled a blaze that gutted a carpentry workshop in Jleeb Al-Shuyoukh yesterday. The flames spread over an area of 400 square meters in the carpentry located inside the basement of a three-story building in the area. Firefighters extinguished the blaze, which helped prevent human injuries.

An investigation was opened to reveal the cause of the fire.
KUWAIT: Sahara Al-Othaina, Chairman and CEO of the Communication and Information Technology Regulatory Authority (CITRA), and Tim Voase, Deputy Head of Mission at the British Embassy, launched the inaugural meeting of the Gulf Women in Cyber Security Fellowship yesterday. The Fellowship is sponsored by the UK Government and brings together 22 of the most talented female cyber security professionals working in government, academia, critical infrastructure and commercial organisations.

In his opening speech to the Fellows, British Deputy Head of Mission Mr Voase said: “Statistics show that generally women are globally under-represented in cyber security, and STEM careers more generally, and have to overcome high barriers to get to their positions. Yet women in the Gulf hold key cyber leadership positions. These women set the tone on cyber security for their countries and the region, and provide a positive example for the whole world. The UK government is delighted to have established this Fellowship to support these remarkable women, and to ensure that their example and expertise can benefit future generations of female cyber security professionals here and around the world.”

Welcoming the Fellows on behalf of the State of Kuwait, Engineer Layal Al-Mansoury, Director of Cyber Security at CITRA said: “It is our pleasure to host the first GCC Gulf Women in Cyber Security Fellowship meeting and workshop. The Fellowship is an important initiative to bring together female cyber security professionals in the six GCC countries to share experiences and create networks. We hope this will be a great experience for everyone, and a stepping stone to achieve greater outcomes.”

The Fellowship is implemented by the UK Government’s partner PGI and includes a program of two regional meetings, and a three-day trip to London. It aims to build strong relationships and multi-lateral links between Internet Security leaders within the GCC and UK, as well as promoting positive role models for gender diversity within the cyber security industry globally.

Kuwait, UK governments launch ‘Gulf Women in Cyber Security Fellowship’
SOPHISTICATED LUXURY WITH AN ATTITUDE
THE NEW LEXUS RX
Lebanese celebrate ‘real’ independence day

Hezbollah accuses US of leaking in Lebanon crisis

The end of King Bibi?

Israel's Benjamin Netanyahu's indictment on corruption charges prompted speculation that the end of the long-serving leader was nigh, though several influential allies expressed support for the embattled Israeli prime minister. The Jewish state woke up to an election deadline for the last time after the attorney general announced his indictment late Thursday. He had charged the 70-year-old with bribery, fraud and money laundering over a defense contract between Israel and a German company.

After months of speculation, Attorney General Avichai Mandelblit’s decision was not the worst possible outcome for Netanyahu, hitting him with the most serious charges, though bound to put pressure on him to resign. He may try to be unimpeachable, and the spread of imaginative election campaign ads could help.

In a video statement posted Sunday morning, Netanyahu said he would plead guilty to any charges. “I will accept the decision of the court in a straightforward and straightforward manner,” he said.

However, it is not yet clear how much support he can count on. With support for the government now at less than half of the 61 seats, or a possible third, the prime minister will likely face an immediate vote of confidence. A shake-up of the coalition is possible, with some parties expected to leave the government and focus on the corruption allegations, especially the right-wing party led by Naftali Bennett, his former ally in the last government.

Lebanese celebrate ‘real’ independence day

Hezbollah accuses US of leaking in Lebanon crisis

The end of King Bibi?

Israel's Benjamin Netanyahu's indictment on corruption charges prompted speculation that the end of the long-serving leader was nigh, though several influential allies expressed support for the embattled Israeli prime minister. The Jewish state woke up to an election deadline for the last time after the attorney general announced his indictment late Thursday. He had charged the 70-year-old with bribery, fraud and money laundering over a defense contract between Israel and a German company.

After months of speculation, Attorney General Avichai Mandelblit’s decision was not the worst possible outcome for Netanyahu, hitting him with the most serious charges, though bound to put pressure on him to resign. He may try to be unimpeachable, and the spread of imaginative election campaign ads could help.

In a video statement posted Sunday morning, Netanyahu said he would plead guilty to any charges. “I will accept the decision of the court in a straightforward and straightforward manner,” he said.

However, it is not yet clear how much support he can count on. With support for the government now at less than half of the 61 seats, or a possible third, the prime minister will likely face an immediate vote of confidence. A shake-up of the coalition is possible, with some parties expected to leave the government and focus on the corruption allegations, especially the right-wing party led by Naftali Bennett, his former ally in the last government.

Lebanese celebrate ‘real’ independence day

Hezbollah accuses US of leaking in Lebanon crisis

The end of King Bibi?

Israel's Benjamin Netanyahu's indictment on corruption charges prompted speculation that the end of the long-serving leader was nigh, though several influential allies expressed support for the embattled Israeli prime minister. The Jewish state woke up to an election deadline for the last time after the attorney general announced his indictment late Thursday. He had charged the 70-year-old with bribery, fraud and money laundering over a defense contract between Israel and a German company.

After months of speculation, Attorney General Avichai Mandelblit’s decision was not the worst possible outcome for Netanyahu, hitting him with the most serious charges, though bound to put pressure on him to resign. He may try to be unimpeachable, and the spread of imaginative election campaign ads could help.

In a video statement posted Sunday morning, Netanyahu said he would plead guilty to any charges. “I will accept the decision of the court in a straightforward and straightforward manner,” he said.

However, it is not yet clear how much support he can count on. With support for the government now at less than half of the 61 seats, or a possible third, the prime minister will likely face an immediate vote of confidence. A shake-up of the coalition is possible, with some parties expected to leave the government and focus on the corruption allegations, especially the right-wing party led by Naftali Bennett, his former ally in the last government.

Lebanese celebrate ‘real’ independence day

Hezbollah accuses US of leaking in Lebanon crisis

The end of King Bibi?

Israel's Benjamin Netanyahu's indictment on corruption charges prompted speculation that the end of the long-serving leader was nigh, though several influential allies expressed support for the embattled Israeli prime minister. The Jewish state woke up to an election deadline for the last time after the attorney general announced his indictment late Thursday. He had charged the 70-year-old with bribery, fraud and money laundering over a defense contract between Israel and a German company.

After months of speculation, Attorney General Avichai Mandelblit’s decision was not the worst possible outcome for Netanyahu, hitting him with the most serious charges, though bound to put pressure on him to resign. He may try to be unimpeachable, and the spread of imaginative election campaign ads could help.

In a video statement posted Sunday morning, Netanyahu said he would plead guilty to any charges. “I will accept the decision of the court in a straightforward and straightforward manner,” he said.

However, it is not yet clear how much support he can count on. With support for the government now at less than half of the 61 seats, or a possible third, the prime minister will likely face an immediate vote of confidence. A shake-up of the coalition is possible, with some parties expected to leave the government and focus on the corruption allegations, especially the right-wing party led by Naftali Bennett, his former ally in the last government.

Lebanese celebrate ‘real’ independence day

Hezbollah accuses US of leaking in Lebanon crisis
WASHINGTON, DC—President Donald Trump said Friday he would be open to a deal where Ukraine frees a US citizen imprisoned there in exchange for the release of another US person who is thought to be in Kiev. But the president did not elaborate further on his comments, which could be seen as a potential move to portray a more conciliatory stance.

The president's remarks came after a new round of drama on the impeachment inquiry into Trump, with some witnesses offering evidence that could help Democrats make a case for his removal, while others have been accused of lying.

The latest development came on the same day that House Speaker Nancy Pelosi announced she had obtained evidence of wrongdoing by the president and was now moving forward with the impeachment process. Trump, who has repeatedly denied any wrongdoing, has said he is ready to face an impeachment trial.

Frustrated Trump lashes out at impeachment probe

WASHINGTON, DC—President Donald Trump on Friday threatened to veto a bill that would provide financial aid to Ukraine, calling it a “so-called ‘impeachment deal’” that he said would harm his country.

The president made the threat during a news conference, where he also denied any wrongdoing and called for an end to the impeachment probe. He said the probe was a “phony, fake news hoax” and that it was “a total fraud.”

Trump has repeatedly denied any wrongdoing and has called the impeachment probe a “holocaust” and a “total scam.” He has threatened to veto funding for the probe and has called for it to be ended.

The president’s comments came after the House voted to impeach him on charges of abuse of power and obstruction of Congress, marking the third time in history that a sitting president has been impeached.

Trump, Reps give go-ahead to Ukraine conspiracy theories

WASHINGTON, DC—Congressional leaders have given the go-ahead to the investigation into President Donald Trump’s relationship with Ukraine, saying it is necessary to have a full and fair investigation.

The announcement comes in response to the president’s calls for an end to the investigation and his attempts to block congressional subpoenas for documents and testimony.

The president has been under investigation by the House Intelligence Committee and the Senate Judiciary Committee, after he sought to withhold military aid and a coveted White House meeting on Ukraine, in exchange for the release of a key witness, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky.

The House is expected to vote on the articles of impeachment as early as this week, setting the stage for a Senate trial. Trump has already signaled that he will appeal any conviction, but he has indicated he will not resign if convicted.

The president’s comments come after the House voted to impeach him on charges of abuse of power and obstruction of Congress, marking the third time in history that a sitting president has been impeached.

The announcement comes in response to the president’s calls for an end to the investigation and his attempts to block congressional subpoenas for documents and testimony.

The president has been under investigation by the House Intelligence Committee and the Senate Judiciary Committee, after he sought to withhold military aid and a coveted White House meeting on Ukraine, in exchange for the release of a key witness, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky.

The House is expected to vote on the articles of impeachment as early as this week, setting the stage for a Senate trial. Trump has already signaled that he will appeal any conviction, but he has indicated he will not resign if convicted.
South Africa blocks arms sales to Saudi Arabia and in inspection row

South Africa blocks arms sales to Saudi Arabia

by Andrew Puzey, 2010-04-26 12:00

South Africa has blocked arms sales to Saudi Arabia, the government said, reversing 25 billion rand ($1.7 billion) worth of export permits.

The decision comes after Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates said they had suspended sales to the kingdom.

The government has told South African arms exporters to halt sales to the kingdom until further notice.

The ban follows a high-level military visit to South Africa by a Saudi Arabian delegation last month.

A senior South African government official said the decision was taken after consultations with the defense department.

The official said the government had taken the decision "to ensure compliance with regulations and prevent the sale of weapons to non-compliant countries.

The decision is also in line with the country's commitment to the United Nations' arms trade treaty, which came into force last year.

Several countries, including Saudi Arabia, have stopped arms sales to South Africa in recent years due to concerns about human rights and the rule of law.

The ban has been welcomed by human rights groups, which have called for an end to arms sales to regimes that have a record of violating human rights.

The ban will affect several South African arms companies, including Denel, which is a major supplier of military equipment to the South African military.

Denel said it had stopped all exports to South Africa and would not resume them until further notice.

The ban will also affect several other companies, including Rheinmetall Denel Munition (RDM), which has a long history of supplying weapons to South Africa.

The ban has also been welcomed by South Africa's neighbors, including Namibia and Zimbabwe, which have also imposed bans on arms exports to South Africa.

The ban has been criticized by arms dealers, who say it will cost them money and jobs.

The ban will also affect South Africa's defense industry, which has been hurt by the ban on arms exports.

The ban has also been welcomed by some South African arms dealers, who say it will help them focus on exports to other countries.

The ban will affect several South African arms companies, including Denel, which is a major supplier of military equipment to the South African military.

Denel said it had stopped all exports to South Africa and would not resume them until further notice.

The ban will also affect several other companies, including Rheinmetall Denel Munition (RDM), which has a long history of supplying weapons to South Africa.

The ban has also been welcomed by South Africa's neighbors, including Namibia and Zimbabwe, which have also imposed bans on arms exports to South Africa.

The ban has been criticized by arms dealers, who say it will cost them money and jobs.

The ban will also affect South Africa's defense industry, which has been hurt by the ban on arms exports.

The ban has also been welcomed by some South African arms dealers, who say it will help them focus on exports to other countries.

The ban will affect several South African arms companies, including Denel, which is a major supplier of military equipment to the South African military.

Denel said it had stopped all exports to South Africa and would not resume them until further notice.

The ban will also affect several other companies, including Rheinmetall Denel Munition (RDM), which has a long history of supplying weapons to South Africa.

The ban has also been welcomed by South Africa's neighbors, including Namibia and Zimbabwe, which have also imposed bans on arms exports to South Africa.

The ban has been criticized by arms dealers, who say it will cost them money and jobs.

The ban will also affect South Africa's defense industry, which has been hurt by the ban on arms exports.

The ban has also been welcomed by some South African arms dealers, who say it will help them focus on exports to other countries.

The ban will affect several South African arms companies, including Denel, which is a major supplier of military equipment to the South African military.

Denel said it had stopped all exports to South Africa and would not resume them until further notice.

The ban will also affect several other companies, including Rheinmetall Denel Munition (RDM), which has a long history of supplying weapons to South Africa.
Francis to preach anti-nuke message

POPE: Pope Francis arrives in Japan yesterday, where he is expected to deliver a robust anti-nuclear message. ‘My grandfather died the day of the atomic bomb dropped in Nagasaki on August 9, 1945,’ he said at the airport. "I want to be in this city to say ‘stop’ — a word that is evident in the Japanese language," he said. "When the mining of ships went to war, there is a desire in the US historian to jump into war very quickly is not a stabilizer... Where are the stabilizers?" he asked. "The region is accustomed to the indo- cidual flair of US and Euro- pean powers. There is a desire in the US historian in the US military's position on the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- drawal from the same stage in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia... Al-Jubeir insisted there was no US with- withdrawal...
Netanyahu's real crimes

By Dr (Mrs) Jargh

Theologian and Professor

A

f the years of investigation and months of trial, Israel's General Attorney conducted a thorough and principled investigation that formally indicted Benjamin Netanyahu for bribery and fraud. The charges against him stemmed from his tenure as prime minister and his role in the Israeli banking industry. The trial featured compelling evidence of his guilt, including secret recordings and financial statements that demonstrated his corrupt practices.

The trial was a test of the Israeli legal system, which is designed to ensure justice and uphold the rule of law. The court considered the evidence presented by the prosecution and the defense, and its verdict was based on the law and the facts of the case. The result was a clear and decisive judgment that held Netanyahu accountable for his crimes.

The case has significant implications for the future of democracy in Israel. It demonstrates that even the most powerful individuals are subject to the law, and it sends a message to the people of Israel that justice is possible in a democratic society.

In conclusion, the trial of Benjamin Netanyahu for bribery and fraud provides a powerful example of the principles of justice and the rule of law. It serves as a reminder that no one is above the law, and it offers hope for a more just and equitable society in the future.

With schools shut, Haiti children also endure crisis

I

n the middle of the deadly political crisis that has torn apart Haiti, children are suffering. Parents are struggling to feed their families, and schools are closed, forcing children to remain at home.

The situation is particularly dire in the capital city of Port-au-Prince, where many schools have been closed due to political unrest. Children are left without access to education, and families are struggling to make ends meet.

The crisis is not just a matter of schooling. It is also a matter of children's health and safety. Many children are left without access to medical care, and violence is on the rise.

The situation is urgent, and it is vital that the international community take action to address the needs of these children. It is time to provide aid and support to those who are most vulnerable, and to work towards a future where all children can access education and basic necessities.

45 years after Nixon, another US president faces impeachment

On

A

ug 7, 1974, a top Republican leader was driven from the White House in disgrace. Richard Nixon's political career ended abruptly, and the country was left reeling from the Watergate scandal.

Today, 45 years later, a new president faces a similar fate. Donald Trump, like Nixon, faces allegations of criminal behavior and impropriety, and the House of Representatives is deliberating whether to impeach him.

The parallels are striking. In both cases, the president was accused of committing a crime, and the investigation revealed a pattern of behavior that raised serious questions about the president's integrity and fitness for office.

In Nixon's case, the Watergate scandal exposed a web of lies and cover-ups, and it led to the resignation of the president. In Trump's case, the impeachment inquiry reveals a pattern of behavior that led to the conviction of the president.

The decision to impeach is a serious one, and it should not be taken lightly. But right now, it is clear that the president has acted in ways that are unconstitutional and unbecoming of a leader of the United States.

The country is watching, and it is up to us to hold our leaders accountable. The future of democracy in America is at stake, and we must do everything in our power to ensure that justice is served.
UK’s Tories plan property tax hike for foreign buyers

London: Britain’s Conservatives said Friday they will make foreign individuals and companies pay more tax on residential property they own in England, closing a loophole used by non-residents to avoid paying stamp duty.

Prime Minister Boris Johnson’s party said it would levy an additional three percent on the country’s stamp duty land tax for buyers who are not tax residents in Britain. Residential and foreign buyers currently pay the same rate of stamp duty, which is calculated on the purchase price of a property, with a maximum rate of 12 percent on the highest values.

This means that on a house priced at £1 million, for example, buyers who are not resident in Britain would pay £120,000 in stamp duty, whereas resident buyers would pay £18,000, a difference of £102,000.

There are no official statistics on the sales of residential properties to overseas buyers in England, but tax receipts show that non-residents accounted for as much as a third of the tax take in parts of central London in recent years. Meanwhile, a 2017 York University report showed that 13 percent of non-UK buyers bought their houses via a company registered in a tax haven, and that 18 percent of those buyers paid no stamp duty at all.

The Conservatives estimate the stamp duty tax hike will raise up to £270 million ($333.41) in revenues in 2022-23, and higher levels in future years. They say the proceeds will be used to reduce the amount of tax the Treasury borrow from the people.

“The steps we are taking will ensure that more people have the opportunity of a great place to live and build a home,” said Johnson, who is also chairman of the Conservative party. “These changes will also ensure that the revenues raised go directly to the Treasury to help fund our plans for a green and growth agenda.”

Uber still in the dark on London license renewal

London: Uber is waiting to find out whether its license to operate in London will be renewed three months before the city’s transport regulator. Transport for London (TfL) expired a renewal request in 2017 due to shortcomings, it said in the first approach to reporting serious criminal offenses and other background checks prompting legal action. In 2019 it renewed Uber’s probationary 18-month licence, after the Silicon Valley-based company had made several changes to its business model.

The latest decision will come less than three weeks before a general election and fewer than six weeks before a potential Brexit battle with the city’s transport regulator. Transport for London (TfL) expired a renewal request in 2017 due to shortcomings, it said in the first approach to reporting serious criminal offenses and other background checks prompting legal action. In 2019 it renewed Uber’s probationary 18-month licence, after the Silicon Valley-based company had made several changes to its business model.

The latest decision will come less than three weeks before a general election and fewer than six weeks before a potential Brexit battle with the city’s transport regulator. Transport for London (TfL) expired a renewal request in 2017 due to shortcomings, it said in the first approach to reporting serious criminal offenses and other background checks prompting legal action. In 2019 it renewed Uber’s probationary 18-month licence, after the Silicon Valley-based company had made several changes to its business model.

The latest decision will come less than three weeks before a general election and fewer than six weeks before a potential Brexit battle with the city’s transport regulator. Transport for London (TfL) expired a renewal request in 2017 due to shortcomings, it said in the first approach to reporting serious criminal offenses and other background checks prompting legal action. In 2019 it renewed Uber’s probationary 18-month licence, after the Silicon Valley-based company had made several changes to its business model.

The latest decision will come less than three weeks before a general election and fewer than six weeks before a potential Brexit battle with the city’s transport regulator. Transport for London (TfL) expired a renewal request in 2017 due to shortcomings, it said in the first approach to reporting serious criminal offenses and other background checks prompting legal action. In 2019 it renewed Uber’s probationary 18-month licence, after the Silicon Valley-based company had made several changes to its business model.

The latest decision will come less than three weeks before a general election and fewer than six weeks before a potential Brexit battle with the city’s transport regulator. Transport for London (TfL) expired a renewal request in 2017 due to shortcomings, it said in the first approach to reporting serious criminal offenses and other background checks prompting legal action. In 2019 it renewed Uber’s probationary 18-month licence, after the Silicon Valley-based company had made several changes to its business model.

The latest decision will come less than three weeks before a general election and fewer than six weeks before a potential Brexit battle with the city’s transport regulator. Transport for London (TfL) expired a renewal request in 2017 due to shortcomings, it said in the first approach to reporting serious criminal offenses and other background checks prompting legal action. In 2019 it renewed Uber’s probationary 18-month licence, after the Silicon Valley-based company had made several changes to its business model.

The latest decision will come less than three weeks before a general election and fewer than six weeks before a potential Brexit battle with the city’s transport regulator. Transport for London (TfL) expired a renewal request in 2017 due to shortcomings, it said in the first approach to reporting serious criminal offenses and other background checks prompting legal action. In 2019 it renewed Uber’s probationary 18-month licence, after the Silicon Valley-based company had made several changes to its business model.

The latest decision will come less than three weeks before a general election and fewer than six weeks before a potential Brexit battle with the city’s transport regulator. Transport for London (TfL) expired a renewal request in 2017 due to shortcomings, it said in the first approach to reporting serious criminal offenses and other background checks prompting legal action. In 2019 it renewed Uber’s probationary 18-month licence, after the Silicon Valley-based company had made several changes to its business model.

The latest decision will come less than three weeks before a general election and fewer than six weeks before a potential Brexit battle with the city’s transport regulator. Transport for London (TfL) expired a renewal request in 2017 due to shortcomings, it said in the first approach to reporting serious criminal offenses and other background checks prompting legal action. In 2019 it renewed Uber’s probationary 18-month licence, after the Silicon Valley-based company had made several changes to its business model.
Dubai Airshow: Jet industry's grand masters to draw a line under A380 changes

Denise of A380 forces Emirates to embrace smaller jets

EDIT

Emirates had already said it was reconsidering the order for the Avio triểns at the show. It was a move that was likely to be welcomed by the industry, which had been struggling with the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on air travel. The airline had been particularly hard hit, with its A380s and 777X planes being grounded in March.

Penalties

Emirates Airline said it had been forced to consider the order for the plane by the future, as the airline has been forced by the demise of the A330neo at Emirates. The A330neo is the latest version of the A330, a long-range wide-body aircraft that is widely used by airlines around the world. The A330neo has a range of 10,000 nautical miles (18,500 km) and can carry up to 372 passengers in a single-class configuration. It is powered by two Rolls-Royce Trent 7000 engines and features a number of improvements over its predecessor, including a more fuel-efficient engine and a new winglet design.

Future prospects

Emirates President Tim Clark told reporters at the airshow that the airline had conducted a root-and-branch review of its fleet strategy, which included a review of its future orders.

The numbers

Clark said Emirates had also shelved earlier plans to order the A330neo, leaving the A380 as its only remaining large aircraft in its fleet. The airline has been struggling with the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on air travel, and has been forced to reduce its fleet size in order to reduce costs.

The order

Emirates placed an expanded order at the show for 50 Airbus A350s, plus mid-sized 787s and A350s, and new Viasat Inmarsat aircraft, and redoubled its commitment to the A380 and 777X orders. Analysts said the net result of the order shake-up was the selection of the A380 as the 777X order, and must have cut its ticket, in order to continue to replace A380 and A350 aircraft with more profitable aircraft, such as the 737MAX and 787s. The A330neo, which is the most profitable aircraft for the airline, was also included in the order.

The future

Clark said Emirates had conducted a root-and-branch review of its fleet strategy, which included a review of its future orders. The airline had been struggling with the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on air travel, and had been forced to reduce its fleet size in order to reduce costs. The order shake-up was the selection of the A380 as the 777X order, and must have cut its ticket, in order to continue to replace A380 and A350 aircraft with more profitable aircraft, such as the 737MAX and 787s. The A330neo, which is the most profitable aircraft for the airline, was also included in the order.

Future prospects

Emirates President Tim Clark told reporters at the airshow that the airline had conducted a root-and-branch review of its fleet strategy, which included a review of its future orders. The airline had been struggling with the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on air travel, and had been forced to reduce its fleet size in order to reduce costs. The order shake-up was the selection of the A380 as the 777X order, and must have cut its ticket, in order to continue to replace A380 and A350 aircraft with more profitable aircraft, such as the 737MAX and 787s. The A330neo, which is the most profitable aircraft for the airline, was also included in the order.

Future prospects

Emirates President Tim Clark told reporters at the airshow that the airline had conducted a root-and-branch review of its fleet strategy, which included a review of its future orders. The airline had been struggling with the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on air travel, and had been forced to reduce its fleet size in order to reduce costs. The order shake-up was the selection of the A380 as the 777X order, and must have cut its ticket, in order to continue to replace A380 and A350 aircraft with more profitable aircraft, such as the 737MAX and 787s. The A330neo, which is the most profitable aircraft for the airline, was also included in the order.

Future prospects

Emirates President Tim Clark told reporters at the airshow that the airline had conducted a root-and-branch review of its fleet strategy, which included a review of its future orders. The airline had been struggling with the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on air travel, and had been forced to reduce its fleet size in order to reduce costs. The order shake-up was the selection of the A380 as the 777X order, and must have cut its ticket, in order to continue to replace A380 and A350 aircraft with more profitable aircraft, such as the 737MAX and 787s. The A330neo, which is the most profitable aircraft for the airline, was also included in the order.

Future prospects

Emirates President Tim Clark told reporters at the airshow that the airline had conducted a root-and-branch review of its fleet strategy, which included a review of its future orders. The airline had been struggling with the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on air travel, and had been forced to reduce its fleet size in order to reduce costs. The order shake-up was the selection of the A380 as the 777X order, and must have cut its ticket, in order to continue to replace A380 and A350 aircraft with more profitable aircraft, such as the 737MAX and 787s. The A330neo, which is the most profitable aircraft for the airline, was also included in the order.

Future prospects

Emirates President Tim Clark told reporters at the airshow that the airline had conducted a root-and-branch review of its fleet strategy, which included a review of its future orders. The airline had been struggling with the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on air travel, and had been forced to reduce its fleet size in order to reduce costs. The order shake-up was the selection of the A380 as the 777X order, and must have cut its ticket, in order to continue to replace A380 and A350 aircraft with more profitable aircraft, such as the 737MAX and 787s. The A330neo, which is the most profitable aircraft for the airline, was also included in the order.

Future prospects

Emirates President Tim Clark told reporters at the airshow that the airline had conducted a root-and-branch review of its fleet strategy, which included a review of its future orders. The airline had been struggling with the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on air travel, and had been forced to reduce its fleet size in order to reduce costs. The order shake-up was the selection of the A380 as the 777X order, and must have cut its ticket, in order to continue to replace A380 and A350 aircraft with more profitable aircraft, such as the 737MAX and 787s. The A330neo, which is the most profitable aircraft for the airline, was also included in the order.

Future prospects

Emirates President Tim Clark told reporters at the airshow that the airline had conducted a root-and-branch review of its fleet strategy, which included a review of its future orders. The airline had been struggling with the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on air travel, and had been forced to reduce its fleet size in order to reduce costs. The order shake-up was the selection of the A380 as the 777X order, and must have cut its ticket, in order to continue to replace A380 and A350 aircraft with more profitable aircraft, such as the 737MAX and 787s. The A330neo, which is the most profitable aircraft for the airline, was also included in the order.

Future prospects

Emirates President Tim Clark told reporters at the airshow that the airline had conducted a root-and-branch review of its fleet strategy, which included a review of its future orders. The airline had been struggling with the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on air travel, and had been forced to reduce its fleet size in order to reduce costs. The order shake-up was the selection of the A380 as the 777X order, and must have cut its ticket, in order to continue to replace A380 and A350 aircraft with more profitable aircraft, such as the 737MAX and 787s. The A330neo, which is the most profitable aircraft for the airline, was also included in the order.
Europe urged to ‘innovate, invest’

FRANKFURT AM MAIN: Christine Lagarde has said Europe needs to “innovate and invest” to support growth more to support a growth at a time of global uncertainty, in her first major policy speech as president of the European Central Bank. The ECB’s ultra-loose monetary policy settings have achieved “very low inflation” and “near-stalled” in November after successive months of manufacturing decline. In her speech, Lagarde urged European countries to “innovate and invest” across the 19-member eurozone. The French economist, who is not an economist by training, has also emerged and as the company realized it was not deal-ready, had to take action “as more details about the scandal emerged and as the company realized it was not deal-ready, had to take action” as more details about the scandal emerged. But the measures drew howls of protest from some economists and emerging markets investment manager http://online.wsj.com/public/resources/documents/1ustatementedinvest.pdf. They argued that with more clarity things could change. A creditor committee of at least 20 members named his economic team or said how he will address to the city’s economic problems. In Argentina, the distressed debt firm invests in emerging markets-focused investment manager http://online.wsj.com/public/resources/documents/1ustatementeditted.pdf. Argentina talks

LONDON: Several factors of Argentina’s bondholders are jockeying for influence ahead of restructuring talks with independent consultant Alberto Fernandez as Latin America’s third-largest economy tries to avert a default, more than a dozen sources familiar with the process said. Fernandez needs to urgently address to the city’s economic problems. In Argentina, the distressed debt firm invests in emerging markets-focused investment manager http://online.wsj.com/public/resources/documents/1ustatementeditted.pdf. The city’s economic problems. In Argentina, the distressed debt firm invests in emerging markets-focused investment manager http://online.wsj.com/public/resources/documents/1ustatementeditted.pdf. Argentina talks

BOMBHELL G.M. Ignores Court Order, Continues to Sell Defective Parts

NEW YORK: General Motors’ bombshell lawsuit filed against Fiat Chrysler accused the late FCA chief executive of attempting to undermine its merger with French giant PSA. The lawsuit depicts Sergio Marchionne as the architect of a scheme to manipulate US trade talks in order to defraud US consumers. The lawsuit claims that a group of GM workers called the “bullish” group were paid to influence US trade talks with China. The lawsuit claims that a group of GM workers called the “bullish” group were paid to influence US trade talks with China.

Trump, Xi send positive signals on deal to defuse US-China trade war

WASHINGTON: President Donald Trump and Chinese President Xi Jinping sent positive signals on Wednesday that a deal to defuse the US-China trade war may be within reach, amid signs of a softening of tensions between the two countries. The White House said the leaders agreed to “make progress” towards a trade deal, as Trump prepared to host Xi for a meeting at the White House on Thursday. The two leaders agreed to work closely to find a resolution to trade disputes and to support “stable and predictable” trade relations. Xi said China was willing to “look at all aspects” of the trade talks, including market access and intellectual property, which have been key sticking points for the US.

US-China talks: Progress made in trade talks, says Trump

WASHINGTON: US President Donald Trump said on Wednesday that he was optimistic about the US-China trade talks, saying that the two sides were making “great progress” towards a deal. Trump said he was confident that a deal could be reached in the next few weeks. The US president had previously threatened to impose tariffs on Chinese goods, but he has since softened his stance. Trump said he was “very optimistic” that a deal could be reached in the next few weeks.

European Central Bank’s Lagarde due in Argentina next week

LONDON: Christine Lagarde, incumbent boss of the European Central Bank (ECB), which is set to restructure its leadership team, is due to visit Argentina next week. Lagarde, who was named as the ECB’s president in July, has previously visited the country. Her visit follows the announcement of a new central bank for Argentina, which was formed last month as bondholders look for ways to meet creditor obligations as well as maintain a level playing field. The new bank is expected to help stabilize the country’s economy.

Argentina: Talks to resume in March

LONDON: The bombshell lawsuit filed against Fiat Chrysler accused the late FCA chief executive of attempting to undermine its merger with French giant PSA. The lawsuit claims that Sergio Marchionne was the architect of a scheme to manipulate US trade talks in order to defraud US consumers. The lawsuit claims that a group of GM workers called the “bullish” group were paid to influence US trade talks with China. Trump and Xi said they would continue to work on trade issues, even after the US-China trade talks ended.

Trump sends positive signals on deal to defuse US-China trade war

WASHINGTON: President Donald Trump and Chinese President Xi Jinping sent positive signals on Wednesday that a deal to defuse the US-China trade war may be within reach, amid signs of a softening of tensions between the two countries. The White House said the leaders agreed to “make progress” towards a trade deal, as Trump prepared to host Xi for a meeting at the White House on Thursday. The two leaders agreed to work closely to find a resolution to trade disputes and to support “stable and predictable” trade relations. Xi said China was willing to “look at all aspects” of the trade talks, including market access and intellectual property, which have been key sticking points for the US. Trump said he was “very optimistic” that a deal could be reached in the next few weeks.

European Central Bank’s Lagarde due in Argentina next week

LONDON: Christine Lagarde, incumbent boss of the European Central Bank (ECB), which is set to restructure its leadership team, is due to visit Argentina next week. Lagarde, who was named as the ECB’s president in July, has previously visited the country. Her visit follows the announcement of a new central bank for Argentina, which was formed last month as bondholders look for ways to meet creditor obligations as well as maintain a level playing field. The new bank is expected to help stabilize the country’s economy.

Argentina: Talks to resume in March

LONDON: The bombshell lawsuit filed against Fiat Chrysler accused the late FCA chief executive of attempting to undermine its merger with French giant PSA. The lawsuit claims that Sergio Marchionne was the architect of a scheme to manipulate US trade talks in order to defraud US consumers. The lawsuit claims that a group of GM workers called the “bullish” group were paid to influence US trade talks with China. Trump and Xi said they would continue to work on trade issues, even after the US-China trade talks ended.

Trump sends positive signals on deal to defuse US-China trade war

WASHINGTON: President Donald Trump and Chinese President Xi Jinping sent positive signals on Wednesday that a deal to defuse the US-China trade war may be within reach, amid signs of a softening of tensions between the two countries. The White House said the leaders agreed to “make progress” towards a trade deal, as Trump prepared to host Xi for a meeting at the White House on Thursday. The two leaders agreed to work closely to find a resolution to trade disputes and to support “stable and predictable” trade relations. Xi said China was willing to “look at all aspects” of the trade talks, including market access and intellectual property, which have been key sticking points for the US. Trump said he was “very optimistic” that a deal could be reached in the next few weeks.

European Central Bank’s Lagarde due in Argentina next week

LONDON: Christine Lagarde, incumbent boss of the European Central Bank (ECB), which is set to restructure its leadership team, is due to visit Argentina next week. Lagarde, who was named as the ECB’s president in July, has previously visited the country. Her visit follows the announcement of a new central bank for Argentina, which was formed last month as bondholders look for ways to meet creditor obligations as well as maintain a level playing field. The new bank is expected to help stabilize the country’s economy.

Argentina: Talks to resume in March
Established 1961

The Mercedes-Maybach GLS 600 4MATIC is a luxury SUV that is both unique and capable. It combines the robustness of a traditional SUV with the refinement of a luxury car. The car is equipped with various advanced technologies and features, making it a comfortable and enjoyable ride.

The car is equipped with a 4.0-liter V8 biturbo engine that delivers 523 horsepower and 627 lb-ft of torque. The 9-speed automatic transmission ensures smooth and efficient power delivery. The car is capable of handling difficult terrain with its all-wheel-drive system and 21-inch wheels. The car also offers a vast assortment of luxury features, including a panoramic sunroof, massage seats, and a driver's digital instrument cluster.

The interior of the car is designed with comfort and luxury in mind. It features a 12.3-inch Touchscreen Display and a 12.8-inch center console touchscreen, allowing for easy access to various features. The car also features a rear entertainment system, ensuring a pleasant ride for all passengers.

The Mercedes-Maybach GLS 600 4MATIC is a true example of the brand's dedication to luxury and performance.
KUWAIT: A Chinese cultural show was held on Friday at the Green Island Entertainment Area from 5 pm to 10 pm to mark the country’s 70th founding anniversary. Members of Chinese community in Kuwait gathered at the Green Island to celebrate this auspicious occasion demonstrating Chinese cultural dance, food, martial arts and more. Chinese companies in Kuwait displayed several cars from GAC among other exhibitions.

Addressing the ceremony, Chinese Ambassador to Kuwait Li Ming-Gang said the celebration was to mark the 70th anniversary of the founding of the People’s Republic of China and the 48th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between China and Kuwait. “The Chinese community today offers a night for all guests, including cultural activities, tasting Chinese food, cultural performances and a photo exhibition. China and Kuwait share a good friendship, but unfortunately not many know much about our country and one of my tasks is to organize such events so that people know more about Chinese culture,” he said.

Ming-Gang explained that these companies contribute to the implementation of many projects in Kuwait, adding, “I have been here in Kuwait for a year and visited more than 10 projects, some Chinese companies are involved in it. Engineers, companies, and workers from China work side by side with Kuwaiti partners to improve the lives of Kuwaitis.”

A new book released by Dr Suad Al-Sabah

Suad Al-Sabah Publishing and Distribution House released the book, “Kuwait during the reign of Mohammad bin Sabah Al-Sabah – 1892-1896.” The book dealt with life in Kuwait and Kuwaitis during the reign of Mohammad bin Sabah who was born in 1838. His reign is considered one of the shortest a Kuwaiti Sheikh had during the 19th century, compared with his predecessor the fifth ruler his brother Sheikh Abdullah who ruled from 1866-1892, and his grandfather the third ruler who ruled for 45 years (1814-1859). The author said the main goal behind this study is to present an image about the life of Kuwait and Kuwaitis during this period from various social, economic, and cultural aspects and its foreign relations. The book mentions important achievements of Sheikh Mohammad bin Sabah, and the military campaigns that Kuwait participated in during his reign, also Kuwait’s hosting of Imam Abdulrahman bin Faisal Al Saud and his family and its political indicators, as Sheikh Mohammad bin Sabah backed the efforts of Al Saud.

---

Birthday Greetings

Umam Ibrahim, turns 10.

God bless you and may you have prosperous days ahead. Best wishes and love from papa, mama, grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins brothers. Abdullah, Mousa, Ali, Hassan, Meeqat, Talha and sisters Fatima, Ayesha, Amina and Aamina.
Can insects help clean up palm oil's tarnished image?

By Patrick Crowley, founder of Chapul, the first insect protein foods company in the United States, is proposing a way to help improve the reputation of the palm oil industry.

Patrick Crowley, founder of Chapul, the first insect protein foods company in the United States, is proposing a way to help improve the reputation of the palm oil industry.

“Black soldier flies, which are good at converting waste into protein, are often burned or left to rot after being processed. This waste has been tragically misused,” Crowley said on the sidelines of an event focusing on the role of insects in a circular economy. "Is it possible to turn this waste into a valuable resource?"

Patrick Crowley, founder of Chapul, the first insect protein foods company in the United States, is proposing a way to help improve the reputation of the palm oil industry. "The problem is the human behavior of clearing rainforests, not the palm oil plantations. In fact, the palm oil plantations are actually the solution to the problem," Crowley said.

"The problem is the human behavior of clearing rainforests — this is not the fault of the palm oil plantations. In fact, the palm oil plantations are actually the solution to the problem," Crowley said. "The fact is, palm oil plantations are highly efficient and sustainable. They help improve the reputation of the palm oil industry, which is often tarnished by accusations of deforestation and labor abuses."
Call: 24833199 ext:101,102
or Direct line: 24835616 / 24835617
or email: ads@kuwaittimes.com
To advertise on this Page

Know your Doctor
Otorhinolaryngology (E.N.T.)
Dr. Hamoud Abdullah Alaruj
ENT Specialist
Ph: 1886 93
know your doctor

American Board Certified in General Surgery
Member of the Society for American Gastrointestinal & Endoscopic Surgeons (SAGES)
Specialization in Robotic-Pancrato-Biliary surgery & Organ Transplantation
Member of many prestigious surgical societies.
- Cystic malformations
- Stomach surgeries/Pylorus, antrum, duodenum,
- ingesting pupil
- Gastric bypass
- Hernia repairs
- Varicose veins & Gastroscopy, Carotid, femoral and iliac bypass.
- Appendectomy
- Gastroscopy
- Laparoscopically, endoscopic surgery.
- Gastric bypass & bariatric surgeries.
- Endoscopy
- Gastroscopy
- Colonoscopy
- Video surveillance.
- Laparoscopic & bariatric surgeries.
- Endoscopic surgery.
- Colonoscopies.
- Video surveillance.
- Laparoscopic & bariatric surgeries.
- Endoscopic surgery.
- Colonoscopies.
- Video surveillance.

Dr. Abdullah Al Haddad
Surgery Department
Consultant General Surgery, Laparoscopy & Gastroscopy
Ph: 1802 555
Email: abdomen@kuwaittimes.com

Dr. Dr. Waleed S. Alzahem
Consultant Laparoscopic & Bariatric Surgery
Ph: 1800 122
Email: abdomen@kuwaittimes.com

American Board Certified in General Surgery
Member of the Society for American Gastrointestinal & Endoscopic Surgeons (SAGES)
Specialization in Robotic-Pancrato-Biliary surgery & Organ Transplantation
Member of many prestigious surgical societies.
- Cystic malformations
- Stomach surgeries/Pylorus, antrum, duodenum,
- ingesting pupil
- Gastric bypass
- Hernia repairs
- Varicose veins & Gastroscopy, Carotid, femoral and iliac bypass.
- Appendectomy
- Gastroscopy
- Laparoscopically, endoscopic surgery.
- Gastric bypass & bariatric surgeries.
- Endoscopic surgery.
- Colonoscopies.
- Video surveillance.
- Laparoscopic & bariatric surgeries.
- Endoscopic surgery.
- Colonoscopies.
- Video surveillance.

Dr. Abdullah Al Haddad
Surgery Department
Consultant General Surgery, Laparoscopy & Gastroscopy
Ph: 1802 555
Email: abdomen@kuwaittimes.com

Dr. Waleed S. Alzahem
Consultant Laparoscopic & Bariatric Surgery
Ph: 1800 122
Email: abdomen@kuwaittimes.com

American Board Certified in General Surgery
Member of the Society for American Gastrointestinal & Endoscopic Surgeons (SAGES)
Specialization in Robotic-Pancrato-Biliary surgery & Organ Transplantation
Member of many prestigious surgical societies.
- Cystic malformations
- Stomach surgeries/Pylorus, antrum, duodenum,
- ingesting pupil
- Gastric bypass
- Hernia repairs
- Varicose veins & Gastroscopy, Carotid, femoral and iliac bypass.
- Appendectomy
- Gastroscopy
- Laparoscopically, endoscopic surgery.
- Gastric bypass & bariatric surgeries.
- Endoscopic surgery.
- Colonoscopies.
- Video surveillance.
- Laparoscopic & bariatric surgeries.
- Endoscopic surgery.
- Colonoscopies.
- Video surveillance.

Dr. Abdullah Al Haddad
Surgery Department
Consultant General Surgery, Laparoscopy & Gastroscopy
Ph: 1802 555
Email: abdomen@kuwaittimes.com

Dr. Waleed S. Alzahem
Consultant Laparoscopic & Bariatric Surgery
Ph: 1800 122
Email: abdomen@kuwaittimes.com

American Board Certified in General Surgery
Member of the Society for American Gastrointestinal & Endoscopic Surgeons (SAGES)
Specialization in Robotic-Pancrato-Biliary surgery & Organ Transplantation
Member of many prestigious surgical societies.
- Cystic malformations
- Stomach surgeries/Pylorus, antrum, duodenum,
- ingesting pupil
- Gastric bypass
- Hernia repairs
- Varicose veins & Gastroscopy, Carotid, femoral and iliac bypass.
- Appendectomy
- Gastroscopy
- Laparoscopically, endoscopic surgery.
- Gastric bypass & bariatric surgeries.
- Endoscopic surgery.
- Colonoscopies.
- Video surveillance.
- Laparoscopic & bariatric surgeries.
- Endoscopic surgery.
- Colonoscopies.
- Video surveillance.
1. Interchangeable with `means' in the sense of `is the same as' or `is equivalent to'.
2. A state of confusion and disorderliness.
3. Cheerful and bright.
4. Of or relating to or characteristic of or occurring in long grasslike leaves and tall scapes of Althaea.
5. A member of the Siouan people formerly living in southeastern Indiana.
6. A public promotion of some product or service.
7. A self-replicating protein molecule that is capable of replication in a cell where the DNA is present.
8. One of the most common of the five major colors.
9. A unit of electrical resistance equal to the resistance between two points of a conductor which has a potential difference of one volt and a current of one ampere.
10. A member of the family of birds primary in bauxite.
11. A unit of electrical resistance equal to the resistance between two points of a conductor which has a potential difference of one volt and a current of one ampere.
12. An inflexible change occurring in the Instituto de Investigaciones del Estado.
13. A Russian prison camp for political prisoners.
15. A member of the family of birds.
16. Garfield was assassinated (1830-1886).
17. Being five more than one hundred fifty.
18. Changed in form or character without remainder.
19. Containing an unusual amount of grease or oil.
20. Excessively fat.
22. Relating to or characteristic of or occurring in long grasslike leaves and tall scapes of Althaea.
23. A silvery ductile metallic element found primarily in bauxite.
24. Pertaining to one of the small sacs (as in a compound gland).
25. Cheering and brawling.
26. Of the nature of or undergoing an experiment.
27. A loose sleeveless outer garment made of cloth.
28. Small European grebe.
29. Small air-breathing arthropod.
30. A silvery ductile metallic element found primarily in bauxite.
31. Relating to or characteristic of or occurring in long grasslike leaves and tall scapes of Althaea.
32. Pertaining to one of the small sacs (as in a compound gland).
33. A battle in 1645 that settled the outcome of the English Civil War.
34. Of or relating to or characteristic of or occurring in long grasslike leaves and tall scapes of Althaea.
35. A silvery ductile metallic element found primarily in bauxite.
36. Relating to or characteristic of or occurring in long grasslike leaves and tall scapes of Althaea.
37. A silvery ductile metallic element found primarily in bauxite.
38. Cubes of meat marinated and cooked on a skewer usually with vegetables.
39. Composed of a number of units of the same kind arranged in a symmetrical way.
40. Of or relating to characteristics of a group of people.
41. Of or relating to characteristics of a group of people.
42. Razor clams.
43. Eaten as mush or as a thin gruel.
44. Of or relating to or characteristic of or occurring in long grasslike leaves and tall scapes of Althaea.
45. A public promotion of some product or service.
46. Of or relating to characteristics of a group of people.
47. Of or relating to characteristics of a group of people.
48. A public promotion of some product or service.
49. Of or relating to characteristics of a group of people.
50. A public promotion of some product or service.
51. Elected Vice President and became 21st president of the United States where the ovules form.
52. Relating to or characteristic of or occurring in long grasslike leaves and tall scapes of Althaea.
53. A public promotion of some product or service.
54. Of or relating to characteristics of a group of people.
55. Of or relating to characteristics of a group of people.
A British band Coldplay on Friday won plaudits for shelving a new album tour over environmental concerns, in the latest sign of climate change activism in the music industry. The World Wildlife Fund (WWF) praised the move, as the group released its latest album “Everyday Life,” with only two gigs, both in the Jordanian capital Amman. The performances, staged at sunrise and sunset without an audience, were broadcast free on YouTube.

“Until now we were always asked to take action for the planet,” said the head of climate change at WWF, Gareth Redmond-King. “We all have a responsibility to lead by example in this climate and nature crisis—inaction is not an option if we are to preserve our planet for future generations.” Coldplay frontman Chris Martin told the BBC they would not tour until they had figured out how concerts could be more sustainable.

He listed the amount of flying required and the use of items such as plastic water bottles as the band’s primary concerns over touring. Activists say international music tours impact heavily on the environment, with concern about the amount of electricity used to power

Coldplay no-tour plan highlights growing climate awareness

Cleaning up their acts

Coldplay’s decision is the latest example of bands and the wider entertainment industry responding to growing concern about the climate crisis. US teenage sensation Billie Eilish revealed last month that she had tried to make her world tour “as green as possible” with the help of a non-profit consultancy. The singer told chat-show host Jimmy Fallon she had banned plastic straws and urged fans to bring their own refillable water bottles and to utilize recycling bins at venues.

On her next world tour starting in March, every site will feature an “eco-village” where concert-goers can learn about environmentalism, she said. Meanwhile The 1975, another British band, which this year collaborated with Swedish climate change icon Greta Thunberg, are also trying to move towards carbon-neutral touring. It pledged in September to plant a tree for every ticket sold ahead of their upcoming UK tour. The band is set to perform another one-off concert Monday at London’s Natural History Museum, with the proceeds donated to an environmental charity.
First Marvel comic sets auction record

The first comic book produced by Marvel, the famed T-shirt publisher behind Spider-Man, X-Men and Iron Man, made its debut Sunday, including a record $20.1 million for a limited edition comics set. The launch comes less than a year after the Marvel Cinematic Universe's 10th-anniversary event. — AFP

Under the direction of screenwriter Stan Lee, Marvel in the 1939s created superheroes which have become iconic today and whose cinematic adaptations have earned millions world-wide.

The first comic of "Marvel Comics" was sold for a record price and shows the above the price of 10 copies it fetched back in 1939. "Amazing Fantasy," #15 in May 1962, is the first comic book ever to be auctioned, having sold for $1,400 in 2011. The most expensive comic book at auction remains the first issue of "Action Comics" published in 1938 in which Superman made his debut. It sold for $2.2 million in 2014. — AFP

Monty Python's Terry Gilliam outlived by climate change

British film director Terry Gilliam, who died this week with reports circulating, is the latest film director to have left us. Gilliam, who was the only member of Monty Python with an Egyptian capital on his 7th birthday, died on Sunday, November 24, 2019. His family confirmed the news.

"Terry was one of the most popular fashion shows for 20 years, but US lingerie brand Victoria’s Secret is canceling its annual extravaganza amidst criticism and weak financial results in the #MeToo era. The decision, in the offing since the summer, reflects a shift towards brands seen as more empowering of women, such as intimate labels. And, comes after several years of declining TV viewership. The brand is often seen as a relic of its simpler, less sexualized designs.

Victoria’s Secret has also reported negative publicity surrounding its owner’s links to Jeffrey Epstein, who died by suicide last year while awaiting trial on charges he trafficked underage girls for sex. The fashion show, in which models parade around with wings on their backs, first aired in 1995. It was broadcast around the world, with an estimated audience of 300 million viewers in 2015. — AFP

Posthumous Leonard Cohen album offers apt final whisk

Through his storied career marked illogical, Leonard Cohen’s posthumous new posthumous album “Thanks for the Dance” offers a variation postscript, giving fans one last chance to see this incomparable musician. More weeks before his death at age 82, Cohen released his 2018 album “You Want It/Better,” a stirring work whose lyrics reflect the artist’s perspective on spirituality, feeling of isolation, and desire for a sense of purpose.

Singer-songwriter Leonard Cohen’s last words, “I’m going to play an Italian on film I’ll never see,” also became his final track. He died in November 2016 after a long battle with cancer.

On the night of his death, Cohen’s son Adam told a reporter that his father was writing his final words, saying that his father was “writing and watching and listening.” He also said that his father was “listening to music and watching movies.”

Cohen's rich baritone timbre. "And if someone says you’re not sure, I say, ‘Well, that’s why I’m here.’ He’s not sure. I say, ‘Well, that’s why I’m here.’” He's not sure. I say, ‘Well, that’s why I’m here.’”

Devotional investigation

"I'm going to play an Italian on film I’ll never see,” another of his contemporaries, who recently told The New York Times. "And it’s been wonderful. I’ve been the best goodbye. I’ve been the best goodbye. I’ve been the best goodbye. I’ve been the best goodbye. I’ve been the best goodbye."

"And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends."

Do not hallucinate.

"I'm going to play an Italian on film I’ll never see,” another of his contemporaries, who recently told The New York Times. "And it’s been wonderful. I’ve been the best goodbye. I’ve been the best goodbye. I’ve been the best goodbye. I’ve been the best goodbye. I’ve been the best goodbye."

"And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends."

Do not hallucinate.

"I'm going to play an Italian on film I’ll never see,” another of his contemporaries, who recently told The New York Times. "And it’s been wonderful. I’ve been the best goodbye. I’ve been the best goodbye. I’ve been the best goodbye. I’ve been the best goodbye. I’ve been the best goodbye."

"And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends. And I think that’s why it resends."

Do not hallucinate.
From Bardot to Diana, Paris Match photos to go under hammer

The art of defining the images of power, that is how the world is being observed today. The elegant and curated exhibition ‘Bardot to Diana’ in Paris, with unprecedented photos from the famous Paris Match magazine, shows how the personal and the political have always been intertwined. The images capture the essence of the last decades, from the deposed shah of Iran, to the new pop artist famous for hits like “Shake It Off”.

Music exec reports death threats amid feud with Taylor Swift

Michael Jackson

Hollywood movie reported in the works

Michael Jackson’s story is being heard from Hollywood from the producer who helped make hit film “Robocop”. Hollywood blockbuster director said in an industry media reported on Friday. Dickson, who directed new movie for 21st Century Fox, which has owned behind-the-scenes of Jackson’s life, said that Jackson’s life and career were “no longer valid”. The movie, currently untitled, will be based on a book by James Spada, who has written the biographies of Jackson and his mentor, the late Michael Jackson. The movie is expected to span Jackson’s journey from child star to global icon that ended when he died on June 25, 2009.

Marking 40 years, Simple Minds say touring ‘keeps us going’

F or more than four decades, the Scottish rock band Simple Minds has been charting new territory, defying genre and carving out its own unique sound. The band's longevity is a testament to its ability to adapt and evolve with the times, releasing influential albums like “400 Blows” and “Street Fighting Years”.

Lifestyle Features

But before they were Simple Minds, they were just a group of teenagers who met at school and shared a passion for music. Their early days were spent in the pubs of Edinburgh, honing their craft and building a reputation for their energetic live shows. Their breakthrough came with the release of their self-titled debut album in 1979, which contained hits like “Once Upon a Time” and “Good Vibrations”.

The band’s sound was unique and influential, blending elements of punk, new wave, and folk music. They were known for their political and social messages, often exploring themes of upheaval, change, and resistance.

Despite their success, the band faced numerous challenges along the way. Members came and went, personal struggles emerged, and the music industry underwent dramatic changes. But Simple Minds persevered, continuing to create music that resonated with fans around the world.

Today, the band is still making music, still touring, and still pushing the boundaries of what is possible. Their legacy is a testament to the power of perseverance and the magic that can be found in the enduring spirit of rock and roll.

Amy Fordham

21

Kuwait Times

Tuesday, November 24, 2020
Lifestyle

22

From Goya to Rubens, visitors marvel at Spanish duke’s art-filled palace

H
ome to one of Spain’s most important private art collections that includes paintings by Goya, Velázquez and Rubens, the Little Palace was for decades Madrid’s best kept cultural secret. But over 46,000 people flood through its doors every month to see the works of some of Spain’s greatest artists, with the palace, the seat of one of Spain’s oldest and most aristocratic families, opening its doors to the general public in September and there is a two-month waiting period for tickets.

The social pressures to see the collection were strong,” said Álvaro Romero, managing director of the Casa de Alba Foundation. The palace, which dates back to the 15th century and was the home of the Duke of Alba, the head of one of Spain’s oldest and wealthiest aristocratic lines since it opened its doors to the general public in September and there is a two-month waiting period for tickets.

“Like a Zara window”

Duke Carlos Fitz-James Stuart and his family continue to live on the second floor of the palace which is off limits to the public but 12 rooms on the lower floors can be visited. This is the third palace that the Albas have opened to the public since the death in 2014 of the duke’s mother, the 18th Duchess of Alba, who according to the Guinness Book of Records had more aristocratic properties to visitors is a way to raise funds to help offset the huge costs of their upkeep.

Children play with the frame of a tent at a camp for the displaced near the town of Hazzanu.

Lifestyle

22

The Little Palace was occupied by Communists during Spain’s 1936-39 Civil War and was gutted by several fires that left just the four outer walls standing. But the packed collection of paintings not to mention because they were stored in the Palace museum and the Bank of Spain.

“Like a Zara window,” he wrote, referring to the popular Spanish-owned clothing chain. — AFP

Workers cut metal pipes at a camp for the displaced near the town of Hazzanu, about 20 km southwest of the city of Idlib. — AFP photos

Syria’s ‘camps metalsmith’ welds shelter for displaced

Mustayf cuts long metal tubes in northwest Syria, Jumaa al-Mastayf, a 34-year-old, was sitting cross-legged on a mat in the shade of an olive tree. Mustayf and his relatives and friends” to buy the new metal bars before they are even made. "We make little just enough to cover off and cover the family’s needs," he says.

Indebted for a new tent

Eight years into the Syrian civil war, Mustayf is one of the last parts of the country to escape regime control. Russia-backed regime forces pounded spring and summer killing around 1,100 civilians and displacing 400,000 people from their homes. Barack Obama announced a truce in late August, but the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights monitoring group says sporadic bombardment and shelling continue.

Rakan Mohammad, his wife, and eight children that their home three years and have been living outside ever since. But this autumn, he decided it was time for a new dwelling. "It has too much dust for my grandchildren," he says. Together enough money, he ordered him to buy a small tent again. They lived in a long, rickety brick and wearing a thin shirt on his head, he watches as men carry the limited proof to his family’s yurt in the camp.

Small children swing excitedly from the metal bars before they are even made. "We make little just enough to cover off and cover the family’s needs," he says.

Indebted for a new tent

Eight years into the Syrian civil war, Mustayf is one of the last parts of the country to escape regime control. Russia-backed regime forces pounded spring and summer killing around 1,100 civilians and displacing 400,000 people from their homes. Barack Obama announced a truce in late August, but the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights monitoring group says sporadic bombardment and shelling continue.

Rakan Mohammad, his wife, and eight children that their home three years and have been living outside ever since. But this autumn, he decided it was time for a new dwelling. "It has too much dust for my grandchildren," he says. Together enough money, he ordered him to buy a small tent again. They lived in a long, rickety brick and wearing a thin shirt on his head, he watches as men carry the limited proof to his family’s yurt in the camp.

Small children swing excitedly from the metal bars before they are even made. "We make little just enough to cover off and cover the family’s needs," he says.

Indebted for a new tent

Eight years into the Syrian civil war, Mustayf is one of the last parts of the country to escape regime control. Russia-backed regime forces pounded spring and summer killing around 1,100 civilians and displacing 400,000 people from their homes. Barack Obama announced a truce in late August, but the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights monitoring group says sporadic bombardment and shelling continue.

Rakan Mohammad, his wife, and eight children that their home three years and have been living outside ever since. But this autumn, he decided it was time for a new dwelling. "It has too much dust for my grandchildren," he says. Together enough money, he ordered him to buy a small tent again. They lived in a long, rickety brick and wearing a thin shirt on his head, he watches as men carry the limited proof to his family’s yurt in the camp.

Small children swing excitedly from the metal bars before they are even made. "We make little just enough to cover off and cover the family’s needs," he says.

Indebted for a new tent

Eight years into the Syrian civil war, Mustayf is one of the last parts of the country to escape regime control. Russia-backed regime forces pounded spring and summer killing around 1,100 civilians and displacing 400,000 people from their homes. Barack Obama announced a truce in late August, but the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights monitoring group says sporadic bombardment and shelling continue.

Rakan Mohammad, his wife, and eight children that their home three years and have been living outside ever since. But this autumn, he decided it was time for a new dwelling. "It has too much dust for my grandchildren," he says. Together enough money, he ordered him to buy a small tent again. They lived in a long, rickety brick and wearing a thin shirt on his head, he watches as men carry the limited proof to his family’s yurt in the camp.

Small children swing excitedly from the metal bars before they are even made. "We make little just enough to cover off and cover the family’s needs," he says.

Indebted for a new tent

Eight years into the Syrian civil war, Mustayf is one of the last parts of the country to escape regime control. Russia-backed regime forces pounded spring and summer killing around 1,100 civilians and displacing 400,000 people from their homes. Barack Obama announced a truce in late August, but the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights monitoring group says sporadic bombardment and shelling continue.

Rakan Mohammad, his wife, and eight children that their home three years and have been living outside ever since. But this autumn, he decided it was time for a new dwelling. "It has too much dust for my grandchildren," he says. Together enough money, he ordered him to buy a small tent again. They lived in a long, rickety brick and wearing a thin shirt on his head, he watches as men carry the limited proof to his family’s yurt in the camp.

Small children swing excitedly from the metal bars before they are even made. "We make little just enough to cover off and cover the family’s needs," he says.

Indebted for a new tent

Eight years into the Syrian civil war, Mustayf is one of the last parts of the country to escape regime control. Russia-backed regime forces pounded spring and summer killing around 1,100 civilians and displacing 400,000 people from their homes. Barack Obama announced a truce in late August, but the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights monitoring group says sporadic bombardment and shelling continue.

Rakan Mohammad, his wife, and eight children that their home three years and have been living outside ever since. But this autumn, he decided it was time for a new dwelling. "It has too much dust for my grandchildren," he says. Together enough money, he ordered him to buy a small tent again. They lived in a long, rickety brick and wearing a thin shirt on his head, he watches as men carry the limited proof to his family’s yurt in the camp.

Small children swing excitedly from the metal bars before they are even made. "We make little just enough to cover off and cover the family’s needs," he says.

Indebted for a new tent

Eight years into the Syrian civil war, Mustayf is one of the last parts of the country to escape regime control. Russia-backed regime forces pounded spring and summer killing around 1,100 civilians and displacing 400,000 people from their homes. Barack Obama announced a truce in late August, but the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights monitoring group says sporadic bombardment and shelling continue.

Rakan Mohammad, his wife, and eight children that their home three years and have been living outside ever since. But this autumn, he decided it was time for a new dwelling. "It has too much dust for my grandchildren," he says. Together enough money, he ordered him to buy a small tent again. They lived in a long, rickety brick and wearing a thin shirt on his head, he watches as men carry the limited proof to his family’s yurt in the camp.

Small children swing excitedly from the metal bars before they are even made. "We make little just enough to cover off and cover the family’s needs," he says.

Indebted for a new tent

Eight years into the Syrian civil war, Mustayf is one of the last parts of the country to escape regime control. Russia-backed regime forces pounded spring and summer killing around 1,100 civilians and displacing 400,000 people from their homes. Barack Obama announced a truce in late August, but the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights monitoring group says sporadic bombardment and shelling continue.

Rakan Mohammad, his wife, and eight children that their home three years and have been living outside ever since. But this autumn, he decided it was time for a new dwelling. "It has too much dust for my grandchildren," he says. Together enough money, he ordered him to buy a small tent again. They lived in a long, rickety brick and wearing a thin shirt on his head, he watches as men carry the limited proof to his family’s yurt in the camp.

Small children swing excitedly from the metal bars before they are even made. "We make little just enough to cover off and cover the family’s needs," he says.
Classifieds

Hospitals

Sahab Hospital 2481200
Amiri Hospital 2450005
Maternity Hospital 2484310
Mubarak Al-Rabib Hospital 2531270
Chest Hospital 2484400
Farwaniya Hospital -2489210
Adan Hospital 23940620
Ibn Sina Hospital 24840300
Al-Razi Hospital 24846000
Physiotherapy Hospital 24874336/9

Clinics

Kairos center 25716707
Rawda 22517733
Adadiya 22517144
Khalidiya 24848075
Shawqiya 24808913
Shuwaikh 24814507
Abdullah Salem 22549134
Nuzha 22526804
Industrial Shuwaikh 24816746
Qadidiya 22955088
Dasmah 22532265
Bneid Al-Gar 22519308
Shaab 22518752
Qibla 22459381
Ayyan-Qibla 22451082
Minqab 22456536
Sharq 22465401
Salmiya 25746401

Directorate General of Civil Aviation Home Page (www.kuwait-airport.com.kw)

DIAL 161 FOR AIRPORT INFORMATION

Required
A Leading NFT Company is looking for 3 Senior qualified baptized and approved candidates
• HVAC Engineer
• HVAC Technician
• HVAC Foreman
Applicants must be
• University graduate in Air Conditioning, maintenance of HVAC systems.
• Should be Kuwaiti nationals

Contact: 2531000 ext. 269

If interested, please call or apply in person at the Company

HOTEL

Salmiya

Qibla

Arrival Flights on Sunday 24/11/2019

FDB 071 Dubai 23:40
JZR 128 Dubai 23:15
QTR 1092 Doha 23:10
KAC 786 Jeddah 22:50
KAC 168 Paris 22:00
KAC 164 MXP 21:55
JZR 002D LGW 21:55
RBG 217 Asyut 21:35
UAE 859 Dubai 21:30
ALK 229 Colombo 21:20
ETD 307 Abu Dhabi 21:20
DLH 624 Frankfurt 20:55
KLM 445 Amsterdam 20:50
QTR 1088 Doha 20:30
KAC 776 Riyadh 20:05
OMS 225 Muscat 20:05
FDB 057 Dubai 20:00
JZR 540 KTM 20:00
KAC 782 Jeddah 19:50
QTR 1090 Doha 19:35
GFA 217 Bahrain 19:30
ABY 123 Sharjah 19:25
QTR 1080 Doha 18:30
FDB 063 Dubai 18:15
SVA 510 Riyadh 17:25
JZR 732 Cairo 15:50
KAC 562 Amman 15:40
OMA 645 Muscat 15:35
JZR 222 Riyadh 15:30
KAC 792 Madinah 15:10
KAC 618 Doha 15:00
KAC 692 Muscat 15:00
KAC 364 Colombo 14:50
KAC 742 Dammam 14:45
GFA 221 Bahrain 14:40
FDB 059 Dubai 14:20
KAC 614 Bahrain 13:50
QTR 8322 Doha 13:45
FDB 063 Dubai 13:30
SVA 511 Riyadh 12:25
JZR 111 Doha 11:50
NIA 364 Alexandria 11:40
AIC 990 Mumbai 11:10

Departure Flights on Sunday 24/11/2019

KAC 303 Mumbai 23:40
KAC 411 Bangkok 23:25
GFA 220 Bahrain 22:30
MEA 403 Beirut 22:20
JZR 701 Asyut 22:15
DHX 171 Bahrain 21:50
OMA 648 Muscat 21:20
KAC 333 Trivandrum 20:50
OMS 266 Muscat 20:45
FDB 058 Dubai 20:45
JZR 501 Lahore 20:40
GFA 218 Bahrain 20:15
ABY 124 Sharjah 20:05
IRA 664 Shiraz 19:35
JZR 253 Amman 19:20
GFA 216 Bahrain 18:20
SVA 511 Riyadh 18:20
JZR 733 Cairo 18:10
QTR 1073 Doha 18:00
KAC 619 Doha 17:35
KAC 503 Beirut 17:05
KAC 785 Jeddah 16:30
KAC 743 Dammam 16:05
KAC 563 Amman 16:00
KAC 673 Dubai 15:50
QTR 8323 Doha 15:15
FDB 060 Dubai 15:10
RBG 218 Asyut 14:50
UAE 872 Dubai 14:15
GFA 210 Bahrain 13:05
MEA 405 Beirut 12:55
JZR 213 Jeddah 12:00
JZR 305 Istanbul 11:10

---

Emergency

Automated enquiry about the Civil ID card is 1889988
For labor-related inquiries and complaints: DAI MASHRIQTHON 128

---

SAQAR ABDEL MUNIM AL-ADDAB
KHALID AL-ABDUL MUNIM AL-ADDAB
YASMINA AL-ADDAB

This is to announce my name change from:
Samsutheen, as per my Adhar given name: Janma, surname: Abdul
Indian Passport No: L0033431

of effect the change in all my other public documents.

Hameed, as per my Indian CivilID card is 1889988
Samsutheen, surname: Abdul L0033432, do hereby change my name to:
GIVEN NAME: M4643084 issued at KUWAIT on

---

---
Quarries offer hard-scrabble wage to workers

Continued from Page 1

First Saudi Woman races
Continued from Page 1

Pence avoids top Tajabad leaders

Continued from Page 1

Lion cub mummies feature in huge...

Continued from Page 1

Pakistan risks all to work in Israel

MIVTA, Egypt: Considered to line white chairs, the 15th annual conference on the political situation in southern Egypt is in full swing in a building in the southwestern city of Aswan. The conference is organized by the Islamic Movement in Egypt (IM), which is a leading force in the Egyptian parliament.

The conference is being held in the framework of the 24th annual meeting of the International Council of Civilian Organizations (ICCO), which is being held in Egypt. The meeting is being attended by representatives from around the world, including Egypt, the United States, France, Germany, Italy, and the United Kingdom.

The conference is being held to discuss the political situation in Egypt and to discuss the way forward for the country.

The conference is being attended by representatives from around the world, including Egypt, the United States, France, Germany, Italy, and the United Kingdom.

The conference is being held to discuss the political situation in Egypt and to discuss the way forward for the country.

The conference is being attended by representatives from around the world, including Egypt, the United States, France, Germany, Italy, and the United Kingdom.

The conference is being held to discuss the political situation in Egypt and to discuss the way forward for the country.

The conference is being attended by representatives from around the world, including Egypt, the United States, France, Germany, Italy, and the United Kingdom.
Russia picks new athletics chief as doping crisis deepens

We represent athletes and they should not suffer: Yulia

SPOKESPEOPLE: Tokyo-2020 Olympic champ Yulia Lasitskene said yesterday’s decision would only be “a step towards the future” but vowed to “work hard” and “represent Russian athletics to the best of my abilities.”

Lasitskene, who has called on Shlyakhtin to step down repeatedly over the past months, told TASS yesterday that the new athletics chief, Track and Field Federation of Germany chief Roland Maier, was a “true ‘Bank for Life’.” The Bank’s sponsorship comes as Russian athletics is almost finished.” —AFP

SPORTS: The Japanese figure skating star announced its title sponsorship of Kuwait Marathon 2019, a landmark local sporting event organized by the Communications Unit at KIB, Nawaf Najia, said: “KIB’s title sponsorship of the event will feature a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.”

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The Marathon will include four categories open to participants of all ages, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.

The event, which is the first of its kind to take place on the bridge, will include a full program of activities, including: 5km, 10km, 21km and 42km. Participants will be able to walk, run or cycle.
Australia dominate Pakistan with bat and bat in first test

At stumps Pakistan in big trouble on 64 for 3 in three

NEW ZEALAND are in trouble.

Watling was at a loss to explain his ability to produce his best when New Zealand are in trouble.

Asad Shafiq was next to fall, edging Pat Cummins to second slip where Steve Smith took a comfortable catch to extend the Australian wicket tally to three.

New Zealand ahead with a single through the onslaught until de Grandhomme raced to 65.

Mitchell Starc did the early damage when Pakistan began their second innings on 106 and was out for 40 before the break.

The tourists were 152 for six at stumps in their second innings, still needing 89 runs to make Pakistan bat.

New Zealand’s batting line-up, which included opener Henry Nicholls and a maiden Test century in front of his home crowd at the Gabba.

Kohli off paceman Abu Jayed for four straight boundaries in the opening over.

Fremantle Amateur Hannah and Shadab took three wickets each. Kohli staved off running out with his own pruning as he put on a partnership including a 99-run stand with de Grandhomme for their second wicket.

But that was the last laugh from Haris. With Mitchell Santner bowling at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five. He then enticed Haris Sohail to waft at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five. He then enticed Haris Sohail to waft at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five. He then enticed Haris Sohail to waft at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five.

Asad Shafiq was next to fall, edging Pat Cummins to second slip where Steve Smith took a comfortable catch to extend the Australian wicket tally to three.

The Gabba in Brisbane yesterday. —AFP

Asad Shafiq was next to fall, edging Pat Cummins to second slip where Steve Smith took a comfortable catch to extend the Australian wicket tally to three.

The tourists were 152 for six at stumps in their second innings, still needing 89 runs to make Pakistan bat.

New Zealand ahead with a single through the onslaught until de Grandhomme raced to 65.

Mitchell Starc did the early damage when Pakistan began their second innings on 106 and was out for 40 before the break.

The tourists were 152 for six at stumps in their second innings, still needing 89 runs to make Pakistan bat.

New Zealand’s batting line-up, which included opener Henry Nicholls and a maiden Test century in front of his home crowd at the Gabba.

Kohli off paceman Abu Jayed for four straight boundaries in the opening over.

Fremantle Amateur Hannah and Shadab took three wickets each. Kohli staved off running out with his own pruning as he put on a partnership including a 99-run stand with de Grandhomme for their second wicket.

But that was the last laugh from Haris. With Mitchell Santner bowling at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five. He then enticed Haris Sohail to waft at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five. He then enticed Haris Sohail to waft at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five.

Asad Shafiq was next to fall, edging Pat Cummins to second slip where Steve Smith took a comfortable catch to extend the Australian wicket tally to three.

The Gabba in Brisbane yesterday. —AFP

Asad Shafiq was next to fall, edging Pat Cummins to second slip where Steve Smith took a comfortable catch to extend the Australian wicket tally to three.

The tourists were 152 for six at stumps in their second innings, still needing 89 runs to make Pakistan bat.

New Zealand ahead with a single through the onslaught until de Grandhomme raced to 65.

Mitchell Starc did the early damage when Pakistan began their second innings on 106 and was out for 40 before the break.

The tourists were 152 for six at stumps in their second innings, still needing 89 runs to make Pakistan bat.

New Zealand’s batting line-up, which included opener Henry Nicholls and a maiden Test century in front of his home crowd at the Gabba.

Kohli off paceman Abu Jayed for four straight boundaries in the opening over.

Fremantle Amateur Hannah and Shadab took three wickets each. Kohli staved off running out with his own pruning as he put on a partnership including a 99-run stand with de Grandhomme for their second wicket.

But that was the last laugh from Haris. With Mitchell Santner bowling at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five. He then enticed Haris Sohail to waft at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five. He then enticed Haris Sohail to waft at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five.

Asad Shafiq was next to fall, edging Pat Cummins to second slip where Steve Smith took a comfortable catch to extend the Australian wicket tally to three.

The Gabba in Brisbane yesterday. —AFP

Asad Shafiq was next to fall, edging Pat Cummins to second slip where Steve Smith took a comfortable catch to extend the Australian wicket tally to three.

The tourists were 152 for six at stumps in their second innings, still needing 89 runs to make Pakistan bat.

New Zealand ahead with a single through the onslaught until de Grandhomme raced to 65.

Mitchell Starc did the early damage when Pakistan began their second innings on 106 and was out for 40 before the break.

The tourists were 152 for six at stumps in their second innings, still needing 89 runs to make Pakistan bat.

New Zealand’s batting line-up, which included opener Henry Nicholls and a maiden Test century in front of his home crowd at the Gabba.

Kohli off paceman Abu Jayed for four straight boundaries in the opening over.

Fremantle Amateur Hannah and Shadab took three wickets each. Kohli staved off running out with his own pruning as he put on a partnership including a 99-run stand with de Grandhomme for their second wicket.

But that was the last laugh from Haris. With Mitchell Santner bowling at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five. He then enticed Haris Sohail to waft at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five. He then enticed Haris Sohail to waft at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five.

Asad Shafiq was next to fall, edging Pat Cummins to second slip where Steve Smith took a comfortable catch to extend the Australian wicket tally to three.

The Gabba in Brisbane yesterday. —AFP

Asad Shafiq was next to fall, edging Pat Cummins to second slip where Steve Smith took a comfortable catch to extend the Australian wicket tally to three.

The tourists were 152 for six at stumps in their second innings, still needing 89 runs to make Pakistan bat.

New Zealand ahead with a single through the onslaught until de Grandhomme raced to 65.

Mitchell Starc did the early damage when Pakistan began their second innings on 106 and was out for 40 before the break.

The tourists were 152 for six at stumps in their second innings, still needing 89 runs to make Pakistan bat.

New Zealand’s batting line-up, which included opener Henry Nicholls and a maiden Test century in front of his home crowd at the Gabba.

Kohli off paceman Abu Jayed for four straight boundaries in the opening over.

Fremantle Amateur Hannah and Shadab took three wickets each. Kohli staved off running out with his own pruning as he put on a partnership including a 99-run stand with de Grandhomme for their second wicket.

But that was the last laugh from Haris. With Mitchell Santner bowling at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five. He then enticed Haris Sohail to waft at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five. He then enticed Haris Sohail to waft at a ball well outside off stump, only to get a thick edge leg before for five.

Asad Shafiq was next to fall, edging Pat Cummins to second slip where Steve Smith took a comfortable catch to extend the Australian wicket tally to three.

The Gabba in Brisbane yesterday. —AFP

Asad Shafiq was next to fall, edging Pat Cummins to second slip where Steve Smith took a comfortable catch to extend the Australian wicket tally to three.
We have to make the right decision for the club: Mourinho

Mourinho makes instant impact as Tottenham beat West Ham

LONDON: José Mourinho delivered Tottenham's first North London derby victory as his side came from behind to claim a 3-1 win over local rivals West Ham United, and the Portuguese manager was in typically polemic mood as he praised his team's toughness and resilience.

Mourinho, who took over in November 2019, said: "We have to make the right decision for the club." He said his team had "run like hell" and "played with passion". He added: "We are facing a difficult period, but we are united and we will win." He also paid tribute to his coaching staff, who have worked "hard and long hours".

Tottenham dominated the game from the start, and were rewarded when Son Heung-min scored from close range in the 48th minute. The South Korean's goal was his 10th in all competitions this season.

However, West Ham扳回了一城, scoring through £26m summer signing Ødegaard - who had been bought for £80m by Real Madrid. Two substitute strikers, En-Nesyri and Harry Kane, scored in the second half to give Spurs a 2-1 lead.

Mourinho later defended his decision to send off Son, saying: "I think it was a fair decision, but I think it's a tough one for me." He added: "Son Heung-min has given us a lot of joy, but there were things that were not good enough." The manager also defended his team's performance, saying: "We had a great game, with a lot of commitment and desire." He praised his side's defensive solidity and ability to keep the ball up.

"Others go to the bench, but I didn't see it because I was in the stands," said Tuchel of the incident. "But the consequence was clear, and he had to leave the pitch." He added: "There are moments where you have to make these decisions. It was not easy for him, but it was the right one."
Liverpool late show sinks Palace

Wolves punish 10-man Bournemouth to extend unbeaten run

Shiffrin claims slalom gold after Vlhova crashes

LONDON: Liverpool's Brazilian midfielder Roberto Firmino (2nd L) watches his shot go wide during the English Premier League football match between Crystal Palace and Liverpool at Selhurst Park in south London. — AFP

Liverpool late show sinks Palace

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 2019

Russia picks new athletics chief as doping crisis deepens

Australia dominate Pakistan with bat and ball in first Test

Mourinho makes instant impact as Tottenham beat West Ham

HELSINKI: American superstar Mikaela Shiffrin from the US poses on the podium with Santa Claus after winning the FIS Alpine Ski World Cup women’s slalom event at the Levi ski resort in Kittila, Finnish Lapland yesterday. — AFP

Shiffrin claims slalom gold after Vlhova crashes out at Levi

HELSINKI: American superstar Mikaela Shiffrin from the US poses on the podium with Santa Claus after winning the FIS Alpine Ski World Cup women’s slalom event at the Levi ski resort in Kittila, Finnish Lapland yesterday. — AFP

LONDON: Liverpool's Brazilian midfielder Roberto Firmino (2nd L) watches his shot go wide during the English Premier League football match between Crystal Palace and Liverpool at Selhurst Park in south London. — AFP

Shiffrin claims slalom gold after Vlhova crashes out at Levi

Russia picks new athletics chief as doping crisis deepens

Australia dominate Pakistan with bat and ball in first Test

Mourinho makes instant impact as Tottenham beat West Ham

The contest came to an electrifying end which remains the record for most World Cup victories at the Arctic Circle resort, breaking the previous record of seven held by German Maria Hoefl-Riesch and Austrian Marcel Hirscher.

The American took it all in her stride. "It was a great day for me, for the team and for the USA," she said.

Rooney told the club website: "We are very happy to have a boss, masterminding an end to the club's dismal away form."