Iraqis wanted to topple the government, but socially we achieved for with social change. “We scored one goal by bringing down the government, but politically we were unable to win against the ruling elite. But what they have so far been able to do is change the way the message is being sent out there,” Abu Baker said.

“This is the most peaceful way to get the message across and it did not work because we don’t have enough free space where conservative norms have been toppled. Much of the crowd’s message at Friday’s Fajr (dawn) prayers – the day when most people turn out to worship – was anti-government in tone. It was not directed toward God and the Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) as is expected at such prayers. It was directed toward politicians and authorities.”

Prime Minister Adel Abdel Mahdi resigned in December, only to be replaced by ex-minister Mohammad Allawi, slammed by protesters as too close to the ruling elite. Like other squares across Iraq’s mainly-sectarian parties and overreach from neighboring Iran.

Iraq has been rocked by a historically large grassroots movement against Israel and the United States. The scene has been described as a show of solidarity against Trump and his Middle East peace plan. There have only been small regular street rallies since that plan was launched last week. Few have responded to calls by President Mahmoud Abbas’ National Authority for ‘Days of Rage’.

The resistance has turned to social media and Facebook and other social media sites to attend what is becoming known as the ‘Great Fajr Campaign’ – described as a show of solidarity against Trump and what the activists see as Israeli threats to Islamic holy sites in Jerusalem and Hebron. Those two cities have also seen larger turnouts in the past few weeks. The first Friday of the current protest month saw the largest turnouts.

Iraq’s young demonstrators, defying arrest, have chanted “Remember, you are the taboo”. — AFP

“Revolution and you are the taboo” –— AFP

Palestinians channel protests through Fajr

NABLUS: Before sunset, thousands of Palestinians stranded in China due to virus創作，including ‘For the sake of God, we have risen up’ and “We scored one goal by bringing down the government, but socially we achieved more.” — Said A.A. Hammoud, 28.

“Most of the people here are students and workers who have no other means of earning a living,” a woman in her 30s said.

“The government has promised to send food and medicine, but it has not done so yet. The people here are living in terrible conditions,” another woman added.

“Even though the Chinese government has promised to help, we don’t believe them. They are only interested in their own interests,” a man in his 40s said.

“We need help from the international community to save our lives,” a woman in her 50s said.

5 600 workers employed in Kuwait stranded in China due to virus

9 Here we go: India’s Trump superfans gear up for arrival

19 Dared off ‘Jetman’ stuns with Iron Man-style Dubai flight

27 More than football: Kurdish women win big with Syria title

KUWAIT: MPs are involved in a brawl during a session of the National Assembly yesterday. — Photo by Yasser Al-Zayyat
Amir receives Crown Prince, Sheikh Nasser, Ahmadi Governor

KUWAIT: His Highness the Amir Sheikh Sabah Al-Ahmad Al-Jaber Al-Sabah received former Crown Prince Sheikh Nawaf Al-Ahmad Al-Jaber Al-Sabah and His Highness Sheikh Nasser Al-Mohammad Al-Ahmad Al-Sabah at Bayan Palace yesterday. His Highness the Crown Prince Sheikh Nawaf Al-Ahmad Al-Jaber Al-Sabah and His Highness the Amir Sheikh Sabah Al-Ahmad Al-Jaber Al-Sabah received Ambassador of the Kuwaiti private sector to the US Dr. Issam Al-Saqer.

Zain ‘Best Mobile Operator’, ‘Best ISP’ in Kuwait during 2019

KUWAIT: For the eighth time, Zain – the leading digital service provider in Kuwait – was ranked first in the ‘Best Mobile Operator’ category of the ‘Kuwait Service Excellence (KSE) Provider’ categories in Kuwait for the year 2019. Service Hero, the Arab World’s only 100 percent customer powered consumer satisfaction index, awarded the service provider highest ranking in the Kuwaiti market. This also confirms the evolvement strategy for a more customer-focused service, most importantly the implementation of artificial intelligence (AI) and AI in many processes to reduce the time of communications with customers. This approach helps in delivering better services to meet the needs of its customers as well as to facilitate their personal, professional, and business needs.

Meanwhile, His Highness the Crown Prince received His Highness Sheikh Nasser Al-Mohammad, as well as Chairman of the Board of Directors of the National Bank of Kuwait (NBK) Nasser Al-Sayer and NBK CEO Issam Al-Saqer, where they extended an invitation to His Highness to attend the opening ceremony of NBK’s new building. —KUNA

Roudhan explained: “When we speak about customer service excellence and the satisfaction level in the market, this team is backed by scientific research and data analysis, and the second being how this excellence impacts industries and service providers like Zain.”

Roudhan added: “When we started measuring our customer satisfaction levels long ago, we started with traditional tools such as management meetings, surveys, case studies, and so on. Today, we rely on completely different ways to achieve this through our main channels, such as phone calls and SMSs, as well as our online channels like the Zain App. Through our app, we can simply send our customer experience process, whether from the employee’s side or the customer’s side.”

Roudhan concluded: “Today we also have the luxury of advanced tools such as Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Big Analytics, where we are able to process huge amounts of data to measure customer feedback, know how satisfied they are with our services, and find out what we need to improve the most. For example, today we can target a single customer based on their experience, relying on feedback from an entire segment of 50,000 customers like we used to do five years ago. This adds a human touch, which greatly and positively affects our customer experience process, whether from the employee’s side or the customer’s side. Through our app, we can simply send Roudhan continued: “Today we also have the luxury of advanced tools such as Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Big Analytics, where we are able to process huge amounts of data to measure customer feedback, know how satisfied they are with our services, and find out what we need to improve the most. For example, today we can target a single customer based on their experience, relying on feedback from an entire segment of 50,000 customers like we used to do five years ago. This adds a human touch, which greatly and positively affects our customer experience process, whether from the employee’s side or the customer’s side. Through our app, we can simply send Roudhan concluded: “Today we also have the luxury of advanced tools such as Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Big Analytics, where we are able to process huge amounts of data to measure customer feedback, know how satisfied they are with our services, and find out what we need to improve the most. For example, today we can target a single customer based on their experience, relying on feedback from an entire segment of 50,000 customers like we used to do five years ago. This adds a human touch, which greatly and positively affects our customer experience process, whether from the employee’s side or the customer’s side. Through our app, we can simply send Roudhan concluded: “Today we also have the luxury of advanced tools such as Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Big Analytics, where we are able to process huge amounts of data to measure customer feedback, know how satisfied they are with our services, and find out what we need to improve the most. For example, today we can target a single customer based on their experience, relying on feedback from an entire segment of 50,000 customers like we used to do five years ago. This adds a human touch, which greatly and positively affects our customer experience process, whether from the employee’s side or the customer’s side. Through our app, we can simply send Roudhan concluded: “Today we also have the luxury of advanced tools such as Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Big Analytics, where we are able to process huge amounts of data to measure customer feedback, know how satisfied they are with our services, and find out what we need to improve the most. For example, today we can target a single customer based on their experience, relying on feedback from an entire segment of 50,000 customers like we used to do five years ago. This adds a human touch, which greatly and positively affects our customer experience process, whether from the employee’s side or the customer’s side. Through our app, we can simply send

Roudhan concluded: “Today we also have the luxury of advanced tools such as Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Big Analytics, where we are able to process huge amounts of data to measure customer feedback, know how satisfied they are with our services, and find out what we need to improve the most. For example, today we can target a single customer based on their experience, relying on feedback from an entire segment of 50,000 customers like we used to do five years ago. This adds a human touch, which greatly and positively affects our customer experience process, whether from the employee’s side or the customer’s side. Through our app, we can simply send
Kuwait, Iran Foreign Ministers discussed regional situation during meeting: Jarallah

Kuwait senior official touts ‘distinguished ties’ with Canada

KUWAIT: Kuwait’s Foreign Minister Sheikh Ahmad Nasser Al-Mohammad al-Sabah and his Iranian counterpart Mohammad Javad Zarif touched upon the situations in the region and the ties between the two countries during a meeting they had yesterday at the sidelines of Munich Security Conference, a source in the Kuwaiti foreign ministry said.

The meeting lasted for some time seeking calm, in addition to the interest of the region’s interest and the constructive. “We think that these meetings are useful and will be at the interest of the region’s interest and the efforts seeking calm, in addition to bilateral ties,” he stressed.

Gulf crisis

Meanwhile, Jarallah reiterated Kuwait’s continued mediation to solve the Gulf crisis, saying “we will not lose hope in the continuation of this mediation.” On Kuwait’s communication with China on coronavirus, he said Kuwait has expressed its solidarity with China towards this big healthy catastrophe. He stressed that the Kuwaiti delegation has previously announced medical assistance to China saying “we will continue offering support and aid to friends on China which they need.”

Regarding the US peace plan on the Palestinian cause, he said Kuwait has voiced its stance towards this issue. “We highly support and appreciate the US efforts. The plan is related to a cause of a nation who have been suffering more than 70 years,” he said. He expressed the necessity of ending this suffering, saying “this will be achieved through a solution based on the international legitimacy and the relevant UN resolutions, the Arab peace initiative and the two-state solution to establish a Palestinian state with East Jerusalem as its capital.”

Regional relations

Jarallah was speaking on the sidelines of participating in the Canadian festivities’ ceremony on the National Flag of Canada Day. The senior Kuwaiti diplomat commended as deep-rooted and distinguished his country’s relations with Canada, saying that “we look forward to boosting the ties with friends in Canada.”

“We share our friends’ national occasion. The ties between the two countries are distinguished, and there is continuous communication and common interests between them,” he said. The recent visit by Afghan Prime Minister Justin Trudeau to Kuwait stressed the developed ties between the two sides. Jarallah held talks with senior officials on the ties between the two friendly countries, Jarallah noted. He said that there are Kuwaiti investments in Canada estimated at more than $10 billion, indicating that 500 Kuwaiti nationals are studying there.

He pointed out there are many opportunities for Kuwaiti to invest in Canada that are an addition to the bilateral relations. He pointed to the notable petroleum cooperation between Kuwait and Canada, which is a broad field for communication and cooperation between the two sides, in addition to energy in general. “We believe that numerous opportunities and the development of relations between the two countries are favorable and promising at the same time,” he said. He expressed appreciation to the Canadian supportive role to the State of Kuwait’s right during the 1990/91 Iraqi Invasion. — KUNA
KUWAIT: ‘Made in Qatar 2020’ exhibition will launch today with Ooredoo Kuwait, the first to launch innovat-ed digital services in Kuwait as the telecom sponsor. The exhibition will be held from today until February 22. The 3rd edition of this exhibition to be organized outside the State of Qatar will be held on an area of 10,000 square meters at the Kuwait International Fairground with the participation of over 220 companies and factories from Qatar. Commenting on the sponsorship, Ooredoo Kuwait Senior Director of Corporate Communications Mijbil Alayoub stated that “this important and unique exhibition represents a special event that showcases the close and brotherly relationship between Qatar and Kuwait and we are pleased to participate in one of the largest events in the Gulf region. This platform brings together innova-tions and high technologies of Qatari companies and factories under one umbrella.” She further added that the exhibition offers a great opportunity for the Kuwaiti community and young business men and entrepreneurs to meet with Qatari manufacturers and get familiar with the latest developments in various industries. The main purpose of the exhibition is to support and promote the Qatari products in the pursuit of achieving the self-sufficiency and reduce the dependence on imported items. — KUNA

BRUSSELS: A top Qatari official lauded the role of women in Kuwait, in particular in civil society. “In the wider Gulf region in some countries, the status of women is not the same as in Kuwait. Women in Kuwait are really excellent,” Lolwah Rashid Al-Kahter, Assistant Foreign Minister and Spokesperson for the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Qatar, told an event organ-ized at the Brussels Press Club yesterday. “Women in NGOs and civil society are doing a great job in Kuwait,” she said. “Arab women are great women. They are num-ber one why there is resilience in several countries like Syria, Yemen and Iraq,” she stressed. In Qatar, she said, since 1995, there has been a movement for more rights for women in the modernization process, noted Kahter, adding that the Qatari foreign policy is consistent with the principles of the European Union. “Brexit happened in peace. This is one of our main messages, how to learn from the European Union,” she said. The Qatari official stressed that promoting education is the key element for progress and development in the Middle East region. — KUNA

Photo of the Day

KUWAIT: Fog covers the base of Kuwait Towers in Kuwait City yesterday. — Photo by Yasser Al-Zayyat

Qatari Foreign Ministry official praises women’s role in Kuwait

‘Made in Qatar 2020’ launches today; Ooredoo sponsor

KUWAIT: Made in Qatar 2020 exhibition will launch today with Ooredoo Kuwait, the first to launch innovat-ed digital services in Kuwait as the telecom sponsor. The exhibition will be held from today until February 22. The 3rd edition of this exhibition to be organized outside the State of Qatar will be held on an area of 10,000 square meters at the Kuwait International Fairground with the participation of over 220 companies and factories from Qatar. Commenting on the sponsorship, Ooredoo Kuwait Senior Director of Corporate Communications Mijbil Alayoub stated that “this important and unique exhibition represents a special event that showcases the close and brotherly relationship between Qatar and Kuwait and we are pleased to participate in one of the largest events in the Gulf region. This platform brings together innova-tions and high technologies of Qatari companies and factories under one umbrella.” She further added that the exhibition offers a great opportunity for the Kuwaiti community and young business men and entrepreneurs to meet with Qatari manufacturers and get familiar with the latest developments in various industries. The main purpose of the exhibition is to support and promote the Qatari products in the pursuit of achieving the self-sufficiency and reduce the dependence on imported items. — KUNA

BRUSSELS: A top Qatari official lauded the role of women in Kuwait, in particular in civil society. “In the wider Gulf region in some countries, the status of women especially in the civil movement for example in Kuwait is really excellent,” Lolwah Rashid Al-Kahter, Assistant Foreign Minister and Spokesperson for the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Qatar, told an event organ-ized at the Brussels Press Club yesterday. “Women in NGOs and civil society are doing a great job in Kuwait,” she said. “Arab women are great women. They are num-ber one why there is resilience in several countries like Syria, Yemen and Iraq,” she stressed. In Qatar, she said, since 1995, there has been a movement for more rights for women in the modernization process, noted Kahter, adding that the Qatari foreign policy is consistent with the principles of the European Union. “Brexit happened in peace. This is one of our main messages, how to learn from the European Union,” she said. The Qatari official stressed that promoting education is the key element for progress and development in the Middle East region. — KUNA

Photo of the Day

KUWAIT: Fog covers the base of Kuwait Towers in Kuwait City yesterday. — Photo by Yasser Al-Zayyat
KUWAIT: Around 600 Chinese workers are currently stranded in Kuwait as a result of a ban imposed by the Chinese government due to the novel coronavirus. The Kuwaiti government is working against the spread of the virus as reported by the Health Ministry.

Ambassador admits delays in trade shipments from China

If there are any further developments, we will keep the embassies informed.

China is the world’s second-largest oil importer, with the United States as its major supplier. The US government has imposed a ban on all trade with China, and the Chinese government has imposed similar restrictions.

Two remedied in custody in Mutlaa fatal accident

KUWAIT: A man who was on a sand dune collapse in Mutlaa that left a number of injured is currently being treated at a hospital in Kuwait City.

Espats to pay KD 2.5 per visit for medical services: Dhaman

KUWAIT: Dhaman Hospitals Company (DHC) Dr Mansour Al-Saadoun told The Kuwait Times yesterday that "no one will pay more than KD 2.5 per visit for medical services."

Minister to push Kuwaitis' employment in private sector

KUWAIT: The minister of state for economic affairs, Aqeel Al-Ghanim, has suggested that the government should prioritize the employment of Kuwaitis in the private sector.

Embassies to delay national celebrations over virus fears

KUWAIT: The Kuwaiti Embassy in Beijing, China, has announced that it will delay its national celebrations over the novel coronavirus.

Aqeel Al-Ghanim said that major celebrations will be held on February 20, but that they will be postponed until March 1.

He also said that the Kuwaiti government will continue to monitor the situation and take any necessary steps to ensure the safety of its citizens.

The Kuwaiti Embassy in Beijing has also advised its citizens to avoid large gatherings and to follow the guidelines provided by the local authorities.

Two年末在Redux for study and then return to his office in the previous Cabinet formation, Minister of Social Affairs and Labor, Ali bin Nasser Al-Marzouq, has been appointed as the minister of state for economic affairs.

He is expected to be sworn in next week, and his appointment is expected to be announced in a press conference.

The new minister will have the task of overseeing the implementation of the government's economic policies.

Two remedied in custody in Mutlaa fatal accident

KUWAIT: A man who was on a sand dune collapse in Mutlaa today that left a number of injured is currently being treated at a hospital in Kuwait City.

Spokesman in an interview with Kuwaiti daily Al-Ahmar, Al-Saadoun said he will coordinate with the Ministry of Health (MoH) to ensure that the injured receive the best possible care.

The injured are currently being treated at the Kuwaiti government hospital in Kuwait City, and they are expected to make a full recovery.

Minister to push Kuwaitis' employment in private sector

KUWAIT: The minister of state for economic affairs, Aqeel Al-Ghanim, has suggested that the government should prioritize the employment of Kuwaitis in the private sector.

He is expected to be sworn in next week, and his appointment is expected to be announced in a press conference.

The new minister will have the task of overseeing the implementation of the government's economic policies.

Two年末在Redux for study and then return to his office in the previous Cabinet formation, Minister of Social Affairs and Labor, Ali bin Nasser Al-Marzouq, has been appointed as the minister of state for economic affairs.

He is expected to be sworn in next week, and his appointment is expected to be announced in a press conference.

The new minister will have the task of overseeing the implementation of the government's economic policies.

Representatives from the legal affairs committee on a draft resolution on amending some provisions of the Decree No. 7/1986. The draft resolution will be submitted to the Kuwaiti National Assembly for discussion.

It is expected to be passed by the Kuwaiti National Assembly, and it will be submitted to the Kuwaiti cabinet for ratification.

Exspats to pay KD 2.5 per visit for medical services: Dhaman

KUWAIT: Dhaman Hospitals Company (DHC) Dr Mansour Al-Saadoun told The Kuwait Times yesterday that "no one will pay more than KD 2.5 per visit for medical services."

Espats to pay KD 2.5 per visit for medical services: Dhaman

KUWAIT: Dhaman Hospitals Company (DHC) Dr Mansour Al-Saadoun told The Kuwait Times yesterday that "no one will pay more than KD 2.5 per visit for medical services."

Minister to push Kuwaitis' employment in private sector

KUWAIT: The minister of state for economic affairs, Aqeel Al-Ghanim, has suggested that the government should prioritize the employment of Kuwaitis in the private sector.

He is expected to be sworn in next week, and his appointment is expected to be announced in a press conference.

The new minister will have the task of overseeing the implementation of the government's economic policies.

Two年末在Redux for study and then return to his office in the previous Cabinet formation, Minister of Social Affairs and Labor, Ali bin Nasser Al-Marzouq, has been appointed as the minister of state for economic affairs.

He is expected to be sworn in next week, and his appointment is expected to be announced in a press conference.

The new minister will have the task of overseeing the implementation of the government's economic policies.

Representatives from the legal affairs committee on a draft resolution on amending some provisions of the Decree No. 7/1986. The draft resolution will be submitted to the Kuwaiti National Assembly for discussion.

It is expected to be passed by the Kuwaiti National Assembly, and it will be submitted to the Kuwaiti cabinet for ratification.
China virus death toll nears 1,900

BEIJING: The toll from the new coronavirus outbroke rose again yesterday but Chinese and international health officials sought to calm global nerves, citing a study showing most cases are mild and warning against excessive measures to contain the epidemic. Nearly 1,900 people have now died and more than 72,000 others infected by the virus in China, with hundreds more in some 25 countries.

The situation remains dire at the epicenter, with the director of a hospital in the central city of Wuhan becoming the seventh medical worker to succumb to the COVID-19 illness. But Chinese officials released a study showing most patients have mild cases of the illness, and warning against "hysteria or panic." online. Earlier this month, the death of Wuhan doctor Li Wenliang - who had been punished by authorities for sounding the alarm about the virus in late December - triggered anger and calls for political reform on social media. Officials, meanwhile, showed there were nearly 1,900 new COVID-19 cases. New infections have been falling in the rest of the country for the past two weeks.

"Less deadly' than SARS

The official death toll in China hit 1,868 yesterday after another 98 people died - most in Hubei and in the city of Wuhan, where the virus originated. The number of new cases hit 899, with 688 in Hubei, according to the National Health Commission. The official death toll in China hit 1,868 yesterday after another 98 people died - most in Hubei and in the city of Wuhan, where the virus originated. The number of new cases hit 899, with 688 in Hubei, according to the National Health Commission. The number of new cases hit 899, with 688 in Hubei, according to the National Health Commission.

"Less deadly' than SARS

The official death toll in China hit 1,868 yesterday after another 98 people died - most in Hubei and in the city of Wuhan, where the virus originated. The number of new cases hit 899, with 688 in Hubei, according to the National Health Commission. The official death toll in China hit 1,868 yesterday after another 98 people died - most in Hubei and in the city of Wuhan, where the virus originated. The number of new cases hit 899, with 688 in Hubei, according to the National Health Commission.

"Less deadly' than SARS

The official death toll in China hit 1,868 yesterday after another 98 people died - most in Hubei and in the city of Wuhan, where the virus originated. The number of new cases hit 899, with 688 in Hubei, according to the National Health Commission. The official death toll in China hit 1,868 yesterday after another 98 people died - most in Hubei and in the city of Wuhan, where the virus originated. The number of new cases hit 899, with 688 in Hubei, according to the National Health Commission.
Hilton unveils its newest hotel in Kuwait

Hilton Garden Inn Kuwait offers convenient access to The Avenues, one of the biggest shopping and leisure destinations in Middle East

On February 17 the official inauguration of Hilton Garden Inn Kuwait took place, during a ceremony in the presence of distinguished chairman Mr. Mouaouz Abdulkhalil Alioune, board members from Mena ne and Hilton representatives. The new hotel, which is the first Hilton Garden Inn to open in Kuwait, offers optimum incation adjoining The Avenues, one of the biggest shopping and leisure destinations in Kuwait and the GCC, making it a destination of choice for travelers.

It is only 15 minutes away from Kuwait International Air-park, and its location along Bubiyan Road offers easy access into Kuwait City. The hotel features 161 well-furnished rooms and suites for business travelers, and offers the ideal setting for meetings, conferences, functions, weddings and social gatherings.

The hotel’s innovative design and(-)laid-back, contemporary atmosphere will appeal to business travelers, leisure guests, as well as to residents of the city.

Hilton Garden Inn Kuwait is situated on a prime location in the heart of the city and is within walking distance of the new retail hub, The Avenues, and the commercial center of Kuwait.

The hotel offers:

- 161 well-furnished rooms and suites
- Free high-speed internet access
- Pool facilities
- Fitness center
- Business center
- Meeting rooms
- Restaurant
- Bar

The hotel is also conveniently located near the Kuwait International Airport, making it an ideal choice for business travelers.

The hotel’s strategic location and well-appointed facilities make it a preferred choice for both business and leisure guests.

Hilton Garden Inn Kuwait is the 11th hotel to open in the Kuwait region, and the 42nd hotel to be opened in the country.

The hotel’s management is committed to providing a high level of service to guests, and to ensure their comfort and satisfaction.

Hilton Garden Inn Kuwait offers:

- Complimentary Wi-Fi in all rooms
- Free local calls
- Free newspaper delivery
- Fitness center
- Restaurant

The hotel’s location and facilities make it an ideal choice for both business and leisure travelers.

Hilton Garden Inn Kuwait is the 42nd hotel to open in the Kuwait region, and the 11th hotel to be opened in the country.

The hotel’s management is committed to providing a high level of service to guests, and to ensure their comfort and satisfaction.

Hilton Garden Inn Kuwait offers:

- Complimentary Wi-Fi in all rooms
- Free local calls
- Free newspaper delivery
- Fitness center
- Restaurant

The hotel’s location and facilities make it an ideal choice for both business and leisure travelers.

Hilton Garden Inn Kuwait is the 42nd hotel to open in the
Kuwait region, and the 11th hotel to be opened in the country.

The hotel’s management is committed to providing a high level of service to guests, and to ensure their comfort and satisfaction.
News in brief

Turkish protesters yesterday set fire to the European Union building in Istanbul with Turkish flags that read “Europe is fascist” and “Europe is fascist” hanging from them. The protesters, who are angry about the EU’s decision to impose sanctions against Turkey, are calling for a vote on its membership in the bloc.

Drugs round-up

Amnesty said yesterday that it had evidence of torture in Palestinian prisons in the West Bank. The organization has been calling for an international probe into human rights abuses in the territory since last year. It is calling for an end to the occupation of Palestinian territories.

A new report by the United Nations Commission on Human Rights has found that the US military has been responsible for the deaths of more than 1,000 civilians in Afghanistan since 2001. The report, which was released yesterday, said that the US military had failed to adequately investigate civilian casualties.

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 165 countries. It is considered one of the most important international legal instruments in the field of human rights.

Smog, smogs choke Central Asian cities

Amnesty International said yesterday that it had evidence of torture in Palestinian prisons in the West Bank. The organization has been calling for an international probe into human rights abuses in the territory since last year. It is calling for an end to the occupation of Palestinian territories.

A new report by the United Nations Commission on Human Rights has found that the US military has been responsible for the deaths of more than 1,000 civilians in Afghanistan since 2001. The report, which was released yesterday, said that the US military had failed to adequately investigate civilian casualties.

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 165 countries. It is considered one of the most important international legal instruments in the field of human rights.

The situation in Central Asia has worsened in recent years. The countries in the region are grappling with issues such as poverty, environmental degradation, and the threat of terrorism. The US and Russia have been involved in the region for many years, and both have been accused of using it as a base for anti-regime activity.

Amnesty’s report said that the US military had been responsible for the deaths of more than 1,000 civilians in Afghanistan since 2001. The report said that the US military had failed to adequately investigate civilian casualties.

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 165 countries. It is considered one of the most important international legal instruments in the field of human rights.

The situation in Central Asia has worsened in recent years. The countries in the region are grappling with issues such as poverty, environmental degradation, and the threat of terrorism. The US and Russia have been involved in the region for many years, and both have been accused of using it as a base for anti-regime activity.

Amnesty’s report said that the US military had been responsible for the deaths of more than 1,000 civilians in Afghanistan since 2001. The report said that the US military had failed to adequately investigate civilian casualties.

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 165 countries. It is considered one of the most important international legal instruments in the field of human rights.

The situation in Central Asia has worsened in recent years. The countries in the region are grappling with issues such as poverty, environmental degradation, and the threat of terrorism. The US and Russia have been involved in the region for many years, and both have been accused of using it as a base for anti-regime activity.

Amnesty’s report said that the US military had been responsible for the deaths of more than 1,000 civilians in Afghanistan since 2001. The report said that the US military had failed to adequately investigate civilian casualties.

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 165 countries. It is considered one of the most important international legal instruments in the field of human rights.

The situation in Central Asia has worsened in recent years. The countries in the region are grappling with issues such as poverty, environmental degradation, and the threat of terrorism. The US and Russia have been involved in the region for many years, and both have been accused of using it as a base for anti-regime activity.

Amnesty’s report said that the US military had been responsible for the deaths of more than 1,000 civilians in Afghanistan since 2001. The report said that the US military had failed to adequately investigate civilian casualties.

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 165 countries. It is considered one of the most important international legal instruments in the field of human rights.

The situation in Central Asia has worsened in recent years. The countries in the region are grappling with issues such as poverty, environmental degradation, and the threat of terrorism. The US and Russia have been involved in the region for many years, and both have been accused of using it as a base for anti-regime activity.

Amnesty’s report said that the US military had been responsible for the deaths of more than 1,000 civilians in Afghanistan since 2001. The report said that the US military had failed to adequately investigate civilian casualties.

The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights is a human rights treaty that was adopted by the United Nations in 1966 and has been ratified by 165 countries. It is considered one of the most important international legal instruments in the field of human rights.

The situation in Central Asia has worsened in recent years. The countries in the region are grappling with issues such as poverty, environmental degradation, and the threat of terrorism. The US and Russia have been involved in the region for many years, and both have been accused of using it as a base for anti-regime activity.

Amnesty’s report said that the US military had been responsible for the deaths of more than 1,000 civilians in Afghanistan since 2001. The report said that the US military had failed to adequately investi...
India's Trump superfans gear up for his arrival

ROONEY: Poonam Krishna first began working for Donald Trump four years ago when the US president appeared to arrive in a dream. Since then, a run of good fortune, the Indian real estate developer has transformed his modest home into a sprawling 12-bedroom mansion in a posh suburb of Mumbai. "I think he's on Mondah for a reason," she says. "He made a transition from real estate to politics."

Mumbai, 30, who lives alone in a village in the southern state of Telangana, has erected an 80-foot statue to Trump in his yard, while his walks are scented with the aroma of his extended family. "I am facing difficulties in the village," Krishna said. "So I think I'm doing things that I want to do in life and I am living with that."

India’s Trump superfans gear up for his arrival

The currency prices of India’s foreign trade and boosted inflation, which the IMF expects at 3.1% of GDP, is in the country's favor. The country has a $1.4 trillion economy and a population of 1.3 billion people. "This time, I have no hope and I will definitely not vote," said a 26-year-old woman who gave her name only as Zara. "I'm a person who has voted before. My father's death has been enough for me."

Soleimani in January in Iraq rallied Iranians around a common enemy. "But Khamenei, Iran's highest authority, has already ruled out talks with the US over Iran's nuclear program. "This time, I have no hope and I will definitely not vote," said a 26-year-old woman who gave her name only as Zara. "I'm a person who has voted before. My father's death has been enough for me."

India’s Trump superfans gear up for his arrival

"Nearby, everyone has been touched by these coal projects. The Australian National University study showed that the country's emissions would increase by a further 15 million Australians who had indirect exposure to coal projects. The Australian National University study showed that the country's emissions would increase by a further 15 million Australians who had indirect exposure to coal projects. The Australian National University study showed that the country's emissions would increase by a further 15 million Australians who had indirect exposure to coal projects.

Ashraf Ghani secures 2nd term as president

KABUL: Ashraf Ghani has secured a second term as president of Afghanistan, according to final results of the September 28, 2019 poll released yesterday by the Independent Election Commission (IEC). "This is a moment of hope and happiness," said Ghani, who has won 50.14% of the vote in the presidential election, with the runner-up, Abdullah Abdullah, securing 16.5%.

Ashraf Ghani is seen as a more accessible vocation for villagers who can't afford the equipment or boats needed to undertake the long journeys to the seaside. "It is a more accessible vocation for villagers who can't afford the equipment or boats needed to undertake the long journeys to the seaside."

Stung by loss

"This is a moment of hope and happiness," said Ghani, who has won 50.14% of the vote in the presidential election, with the runner-up, Abdullah Abdullah, securing 16.5%.

Ashraf Ghani is seen as a more accessible vocation for villagers who can't afford the equipment or boats needed to undertake the long journeys to the seaside. "It is a more accessible vocation for villagers who can't afford the equipment or boats needed to undertake the long journeys to the seaside."

Stung by loss

"This is a moment of hope and happiness," said Ghani, who has won 50.14% of the vote in the presidential election, with the runner-up, Abdullah Abdullah, securing 16.5%.

Ashraf Ghani is seen as a more accessible vocation for villagers who can't afford the equipment or boats needed to undertake the long journeys to the seaside. "It is a more accessible vocation for villagers who can't afford the equipment or boats needed to undertake the long journeys to the seaside."

Stung by loss

"This is a moment of hope and happiness," said Ghani, who has won 50.14% of the vote in the presidential election, with the runner-up, Abdullah Abdullah, securing 16.5%.
Algeria anti-system protesters mark first anniversary

On Feb 22, 2023, student and unemployed protesters held the 30th anniversary of the Hirak, as the Algerian protest movement is called, as it first erupted in 1992. The Hirak protesters were demanding an end to the regime of President Abdelaziz Bouteflika, who had held power for 20 years and was later accused of ordering the coup attempt.

On Friday, the Hirak movement marked the 30th anniversary of the protests that swept Algeria in 1992. The Hirak was a mass protest movement that began in February 1992 and lasted until November 2002.

The Hirak was sparked by a wave of protests demanding political reform and an end to the regime of President Chadli Bendjedid. The protests were violently suppressed, and the government responded with a crackdown on protesters, including the arrest of thousands of activists.

The Hirak movement was characterized by its peaceful nature and its demand for democracy, human rights, and social justice. The Hirak protesters were demanding an end to the regime of President Chadli Bendjedid, who had held power since 1992 and was widely seen as corrupt and repressive.

The movement was led by a broad coalition of political groups, including the Islamic Salvation Front, a religious political party, and the Association of Algerian Women. The Hirak was largely secular and anti-clerical, and its leaders were critical of the influence of the Islamic Salvation Front.

The Hirak movement was largely peaceful, with only scattered instances of violence. However, the government responded with a crackdown on protesters, including the arrest of thousands of activists.

The Hirak movement was marked by a series of protests, strikes, and rallies throughout Algeria, and its leaders were critical of the government's response to the crisis.

The Hirak movement was marked by a lack of political representation and a lack of access to the political process. The government was widely seen as corrupt and repressive, and the Hirak protesters were demanding an end to the regime of President Chadli Bendjedid.

The Hirak movement was marked by a lack of political representation and a lack of access to the political process. The government was widely seen as corrupt and repressive, and the Hirak protesters were demanding an end to the regime of President Chadli Bendjedid.

The Hirak movement was marked by a lack of political representation and a lack of access to the political process. The government was widely seen as corrupt and repressive, and the Hirak protesters were demanding an end to the regime of President Chadli Bendjedid.

The Hirak movement was marked by a lack of political representation and a lack of access to the political process. The government was widely seen as corrupt and repressive, and the Hirak protesters were demanding an end to the regime of President Chadli Bendjedid.
Commercial Bank of Kuwait announces operating profit before provisions of KD 108.5m for 2019

The Bank witnessed healthy growth in the key areas of business and revenue. Total assets increased by 9.0 percent to reach KD 4.9 billion. Operating income grew by 5.1 percent, interest income by 3.6 percent and fee income by 4.2 percent.

The resultant net profit attributable to the shareholders of the bank is zero for the fourth quarter of the year 2019 (KD 0.3 million), as at the end of the year total provisions held with the bank amounted to KD 127.3 million. The Bank will continue to pursue its right to recover loans transferred to the memorandum account. The Bank will continue to pursue its right to recover loans transferred to the memorandum account. The Bank will continue to pursue its right to recover loans transferred to the memorandum account.

KUWAIT: Huawei and KCST sign MoU to establish an ICT academy

Huawei and KCST sign MoU to establish an ICT academy.

KUWAIT: Sharaf Technologies Kuwait, a leading global information and communication technology solutions provider, recently signed a memorandum of understanding with Kuwait College of Science and Technology (KCST) to expand and equip the next generation of ICT professionals with the necessary skills to succeed in different technological developments such as Big Data, cloud computing, Artificial Intelligence (AI), and preventive technologies, giving them a full range of ICT career certification.

`"The academy is a crucial platform that develops talent and furnishes them with the application skills essential in today’s rapidly evolving world. The recent MoU with Kuwait College of Science and Technology (KCST) falls in line with Huawei’s long-term commitment to the country’s talent development and the nation’s vision of transforming Kuwait into a digitally competitive and engaging society.

Speaking at the event, CEO of Huawei Technologies Kuwait, Mousa Ali, said: “Our goal remains to expand the capacity of ICT knowledge and provide certifications that will enable the students to grow and pursue professional careers in ICT business leaders of tomorrow. The academy is established to meet the challenges of the future by developing the most advanced security solutions to drive the banking industry. Storing and analyzing large amounts of data generated by the bank’s digital transformation efforts. Storing and analyzing large amounts of data generated by the bank’s digital transformation efforts.

The academy is established to meet the challenges of the future by developing the most advanced security solutions to drive the banking industry. Storing and analyzing large amounts of data generated by the bank’s digital transformation efforts.

The academy is established to meet the challenges of the future by developing the most advanced security solutions to drive the banking industry.
Corporate stories to struggle to resume operations in China

REHJING: Foreign firms are struggling to resume work in virus-hit China as they face shipping shortfalls, rising inventory and quarantine rules meant to contain the deadly epidemic. The Chinese authorities have kept millions of people isolated from their homes for weeks in an attempt to control the coronavirus, which has killed nearly 1,300 people.

Many businesses reported operating at as much as the targeted of 50%. Many others have reported problems with labor shortages, equipment and supplies, and shipping. Some firms have been able to resume operations, but they have struggled to maintain the same level of production as before.

The spread of the virus has disrupted global supply chains, and the situation is expected to remain challenging for months to come. The coronavirus has spread to more than 80 countries, and its impact on the global economy is likely to be significant.

The coronavirus outbreak has led to the shutdown of many factories, resulting in a sharp decline in production. The latest estimates suggest that China's GDP could contract by as much as 6% in the first quarter of this year, compared with a growth rate of 6.1% in the same period last year.

China is the world's second-largest economy and a key player in the global supply chain. The pandemic has caused a significant disruption to global trade and has led to a sharp decline in demand for Chinese goods. The situation is expected to remain challenging for months to come, and it is likely to have a significant impact on the global economy.

Foreign companies struggle to resume operations in China
In change of tack, Eurozone, fiscal boost forecast

BRUSSELS. The eurozone should be ready to spend more if a downturn hits its economy, Germany's Finance Minister Olaf Scholz said today, saying the chancellor wants to see a spectrum of fiscal stimulus.

The 19-country eurozone has for years struggled to agree on fiscal stimulus amid political sensibilities and national elections. But Scholz said in an interview with Reuters today that Germany is more open to fiscal stimulus now due to the coronavirus outbreak, which has led to a global economic slowdown.

"We need to be ready to spend more if a downturn hits the eurozone economy," Scholz said. "We will not sit on our hands. We will be ready to act." Scholz is due to meet with other eurozone finance ministers in Brussels on Tuesday to discuss potential stimulus measures.

In a recent survey by Tsinghua University and the World Economic Forum, 74% of respondents said they expected a recession in the next two years. In March, the International Monetary Fund projected the global economy would shrink by 3% this year.

"The eurozone is more open to fiscal stimulus now due to the coronavirus outbreak, which has led to a global economic slowdown," Scholz said. "We need to be ready to spend more if a downturn hits the eurozone economy."
Boubyan Bank wins two awards from Wusu for excellence in automobile service

A decade at the top of the pyramid of Kuwait’s customer service

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Personal management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Boustani, head of the Center of Automotive Management, a German research institute. "For politics, it's incredibly difficult to communicate the interiority of the businesses a lot of people are working in," he said. "As a consumer, you don't see the whole business."

| Badr Hussein, a consultant at the German Development Institute. "The car industry is becoming more integrated with other sectors, which means that the risks it faces are more complex and interconnected," he said. "It's not just about the health of the car manufacturers themselves, but also about the wider economy."
Established 1961

Under the auspices and with the presence of PAAET Deputy Director for Training Affairs, Tareq Al-Omairi, the Higher Institute of Communications and Navigation recently held a special ceremony to honor its outstanding graduates. The ceremony was also attended by the institute manager, Captain Monther Al-Kandary, heads of departments, and graduates’ parents.

Higher Institute of Communications and Navigation honours graduates

LAPA organizes concert for ABBA tribute band

On concluding its third Arab Youth Festival activities organized with Al-Shahed Park, LOTUC’s Academy for Performing Arts (LAPA) recently organized a concert for the ABBA Tribute band which took the audience back in a nostalgic trip to the golden days of ABBA, with stunning harmonies, costumes, choreography and a sprinkle of light-hearted humor.

Singing for the first time in Kuwait, ABBA Tribute band performed ABBA’s best songs including Mamma Mia, Dancing Queen, Chiquitita, Fernando, Waterloo, Money... Money, Take A Chance on Me, Gimme...gimmie and many others.

Speaking on the occasion, Al-Shaheed Park manager, Salman Al-Roshoud stressed the importance of building cultural bridges through such cultural and artistic activities, as music is a universal language shared by all peoples.

DWC holds open recreation day for diplomats

Within the programs it specifically designed for employees’ families, the Defence Ministry recently organized an open recreational day activity for members of the Diplomatic Women Committee and their families at the ministry’s annual camp. Besides DWC members, ambassadors of Venezuela, Austria, Tanzania, Kenya, and a number of ambassadors’ spouses, consuls, diplomats and their spouses also attended.

TIES Center

The TIES Center cordially invites you to another session on the Stories of Prophets this Thursday, February 20th, at 7 pm. This will be the second session on the life and times of Jesus (peace be upon him) based primarily on verses from the Noble Quran and Prophet Muhammad’s (PBUH) narrations. We will answer the following questions and deduce a lot of great lessons:

1. What happens when Allah (SWT) loves you, and why should He be at the center of our priorities in life?
2. What is our purpose in life, and what happens when we focus on the bounty and forget the giver?
3. What were the special favors given to Mary, Jesus’ Mother, what challenges did she face, and how did she react?
4. Why is Mary the best woman ever created, and how did she live her life?
5. How did Mary react to the news that she would conceive a baby without a husband, how did she conceive, and what is the Islamic ruling regarding desiring death?

Come and learn more about the life and times of Prophet Jesus (PBUH) in a serene and relaxed environment at the TIES Center.
Bezos launches $10bn fund to combat climate change

WASHINGTON: Amazon CEO Jeff Bezos has pledged $10 billion to a new fund to tackle climate change but activists have urged the world’s richest man to first clean up the e-commerce giant’s own lacklustre environmental record.

The e-commerce tycoon said the Bezos Earth Fund would “fund scientists, activists, NGOs – any effort that offers a real possibility to help preserve and protect the natural world.”

“Climate change is the biggest threat to our planet,” Bezos, whose net worth is estimated to be around $130 billion, said in an Instagram post to his 1.4 million followers on Monday.

However, Greenpeace USA said Amazon still had “massive climate issues,” asking: “Why won’t Bezos lead by cleaning up his own house?”

Hundreds of Amazon employees last month signed a blog criticizing the online retail giant’s climate policies and demanding it do more to tackle climate change.

Amazon has been accused of creating vast amounts of waste from the packaging it uses for doorstep deliveries, as well as for the greenhouse gas emissions from huge vehicle fleets.

The company, which in December said its workforce had hit 750,000, has also been denounced over its carbon footprint because of the high-energy consumption of its server farms for its lucrative cloud computing activities.

Amazon Employees for Climate Justice, the group behind last month’s criticism, responded to Bezos’ pledge by urging the company to stop working with oil and gas companies and swap its diesel trucks for electric vehicles.

“Our biggest philanthropic commitment ever is not enough,” the group said in a statement.

Bezos, who maintained his status as the world’s richest person despite an expensive divorce last year, said his new foundation would begin issuing grants later this year.

“Ultimately, we are all connected,” Bezos said in his announcement on Monday.

Amazon’s carbon targets

Last September, he said Amazon would pledge to become carbon neutral by 2040 and vowed that the company would order 100,000 electric delivery trucks. Rather than make investments that the business guru might profit from, the fund would allocate grant money to projects, The New York Times said, quoting unnamed sources familiar with the initiative.

Bezos has often clashed with US President Donald Trump, who regularly attacks climate change activists and recently called them “perennial prophets of doom”.

Global corporations in all sectors have been churning out climate action plans to reduce carbon footprints and adapt to tomorrow’s low-carbon economy, but experts have cautioned that many of these seemingly ambitious pledges are more greenwashing than green.

Microsoft announced a plan earlier this year that would not only allow the software giant to become “carbon neutral” within a decade, but also to erase its entire carbon footprint by 2028.

But the claim partly depends on technologies that do not yet exist on a meaningful scale such as machines that suck carbon dioxide directly out of the air. The company also has highly lucrative deals supplying major oil and gas companies with state-of-the-art tools to boost extraction rates and supply fuels.

The fund was described as Bezos’s biggest philanthropic commitment ever — even if Bezos spent the full $10 billion — approximately 7.7 percent of his fortune.

Immediately, he would still be the world’s richest person.

Last week, he reportedly agreed to buy a Beverly Hills mansion built in the 1930s by Hollywood movie mogul Jack Warner for $165 million, a record price for a California home.

Global corporations in all sectors have been churning out climate action plans to reduce carbon footprints and adapt to tomorrow’s low-carbon economy, but experts have cautioned that many of these seemingly ambitious pledges are more greenwashing than green.

Microsoft announced a plan earlier this year that would not only allow the software giant to become “carbon neutral” within a decade, but also to erase its entire carbon footprint by 2028.

But the claim partly depends on technologies that do not yet exist on a meaningful scale such as machines that suck carbon dioxide directly out of the air. The company also has highly lucrative deals supplying major oil and gas companies with state-of-the-art tools to boost extraction rates and supply fuels. — AFP
To advertise on this Page

Call: 24833199 ext:101,102
or Direct line: 24835616 / 24835617
or email: ads@kuwaittimes.com

DR. KHALDA ALMERHI
Consultant Ent & Laryngologist
Dr. Hamoud Abdullah AlFarouj
ENT Consultant, Laryngologist

Call: 24833199 ext:101,102
or Direct line: 24835616 / 24835617
or email: ads@kuwaittimes.com

Experienced in:
- Management of benign and malignant vocal cord lesions.
- Vocal cord augmentation.
- Diagnosis and treatment of spasmodic dysphonia.
- Adenotonsillectomy using latest techniques.
- Myringotomy and ventilation tube insertion.
- Surgery for the deviated nasal septum.
- Endoscopic sinus surgery.
- Diagnosis and treatment of allergic rhinitis.
- Tympanoplasty.
- Diagnosis and treatment of vertigo.
- Thyroid surgery.
- Diagnosis and treatment of snoring.

Dr. Hamoud Abdullah AlFarouj
ENT Consultant, Laryngologist

Kuwait Board of Otolaryngology.
Laryngology Fellowship, MUC.
Fellowship training in Otolaryngology-Head & Neck Surgery.
Fellow of the European Board of Otolaryngology-Head & Neck Surgery.
Fellow of The American Laryngological Association.
Member of the European Laryngological Society.
Member of the Canadian Society of Otolaryngology-Head & Neck Surgery.

American Board Certified in General Surgery
Member of the Societies for minimally Invasive & Endoscopic Surgeons (SAGES)
Higher specialization in Repeate Pancreatectomy surgery & Organ Transplantations
Member of many prestigious surgical societies.

- Key surgery cases
- Neurosurgery
- Interventional radiology
- Breast surgery
- Vascular surgery
- GI surgery
- Thoracic surgery
- Vascular surgery
- Thoracic surgery
- Urology
- General surgery
- Obstetrics and gynecology
- Colorectal surgery
- Vascular surgery
- Bariatric surgery
- Gastrointestinal surgery

Academic Certificates – Training
- Fellow of American Board of General Surgery
- Fellow of American Board of Colon and Rectal Surgery
- Fellow of American Board of General Surgery
- Fellow of American Board of Colon and Rectal Surgery

Scope of clinical Practice:
- Bariatric surgeries
- Gallbladder stones surgeries
- Abdominal wall and hernia surgeries.
- GI surgeries
- Thyroid and parathyroid surgeries
- Abdominal surgeries
Yesterday's Solution

STARS

18. A loose sleeveless outer garment made from aba cloth.

42. A metallic element of the rare earth group.

58. A unit of electrical power in an AC circuit.

60. A communist state in Indochina on the Peninsula of Vietnam.

64. An accountant certified by the state.

67. Marking or showing unaffected simplicity or naivety.

69. (prefix) In front of or before in space.

70. An organ (especially a bacterium) that does not require air or free oxygen to live.

72. A chronic drinker.

74. Antibacterial drug (trade name Nydrazid).

75. The flattened end of a motor neuron that sends a signal to the body.

76. The second month of the Moslem calendar.

17. Tooth on the rim of gear wheel.

22. Make less visible or unclear.

24. Cubes of meat marinated and cooked on a spit.

34. A unit of volume or capacity equal to 1,000 liters.

41. Type genus of the family Arcidae.

45. Brief episode in which the brain gets an electric shock.

46. (old-fashioned) At or from or to a great distance.

52. The distinctive quality or pitch or condition of a sound.

56. A metric unit of volume or capacity equal to 1,000 liters.

59. Of or belonging to an aecium.

62. The compass point midway between east and southeast.

63. Marked by or showing unaffected simplicity or naivety.

65. The basic unit of length adopted under the Metric System.

68. (zoology) Having a tail or tail-like appendage.

69. (prefix) In front of or before in space.

71. An international organization of European nations.

77. 16 ounces.

206. Someone who works (or provides workers) to get everything ready. Your plane could be delayed or something valuable could be overlooked.

211. Someone who works (or provides workers) to get everything ready. Your plane could be delayed or something valuable could be overlooked.

212. Someone who works (or provides workers) to get everything ready. Your plane could be delayed or something valuable could be overlooked.

221. Someone who works (or provides workers) to get everything ready. Your plane could be delayed or something valuable could be overlooked.
Dressed like an R2D2 kidney, the Jetman sported an iron man-style flight over Dubai. Thrice a day, he was airborne over the emirates' skyline; "We accomplished another world first in 100 percent autonomous human flight," the Frenchman on Friday hovered five meters above the crystal waters of Dubai's coast before shooting off into the air and skimming the city's skyline. "It's the result of extremely thorough teamwork, with @jetmandubai," he explained. His engines, which are controlled by the pilot's movements, are powered by four mini jet engines. The equipment, which is controlled by the pilot's movements, is capable of reaching speeds of 400 kilometers (250 miles) per hour. On Friday, Jetman hovered five meters above the crystal waters of Dubai's coast before shooting off into the air and skimming the city's skyline. The Jetmen had previously launched themselves into the air by jumping down from high platforms. It's the result of extremely thorough teamwork, and I was overjoyed by the progress that was achieved," Reffet said in a statement. "One of the next objectives is to land back on the ground before soaring up to 1,800m!" tweeted Expo 2020 Dubai, the mammoth trade fair that will open in October. The Jetmen have pulled off a series of eye-popping flights in Dubai, soaring in tandem and alongside an Emirates Airbus A380, the world's largest commercial airplane. Last year, Jetman and fellow Frenchman Fred Fugen also flew through the famed “Heaven’s Gate” archway in the mountains of China’s Hunan province. — AFP
Coronavirus casts shadow on China's big screen ambitions

The streaming giants have had an unexpected hit from the locked-down world of cinema in China. The first film from Barack and Michelle Obama's production house, titled "Wrinkles of the Palace" in Chinese, is a biographical story of Chinese revolutionary leader Wu Tao, played by Chinese actor Li Gengxin.

"Wrinkles of the Palace" is a biographical drama film based on the life of Wu Tao, a legendary Chinese warrior and politician who lived from the 1820s to the 1880s. The film is directed by Chinese director and actor Li Gengxin, who also stars as Wu Tao. The film is produced by Wu Jing, the founder of China's biggest film and TV production site- company, and released VIP films for free viewing during the holiday, which will also face losses from closed cinemas.

"Wrinkles of the Palace" was released on the first day of the Chinese New Year, which is the biggest box office day in the world. With over $300 million in box office sales, it is expected to become one of the biggest films of the year. The film has been praised for its impressive sets and costumes, as well as its powerful storytelling.

In China, cinemas are shuttered and empty. The lack of new releases has caused a decline in attendance, and many films have been moved to later release dates. However, some films have continued to be released in smaller theaters or streaming platforms.

Despite the challenges, China's film industry has remained resilient. The streaming giants, such as Bilibili and iQiyi, have brought forward the release of new programs and films to compensate for the closure of cinemas.

"Wrinkles of the Palace" is just one example of the creative ways in which the film industry is adapting to the current situation. As cinemas remain closed, filmmakers are finding new ways to bring their stories to audiences.

Bruce Willis

Bruce Willis, the Hollywood actor, has been cast in Randall Wallace's new film "Fish in Midnight," which has been set in 2004 - will tell the story of an FBI agent (Megan) and a Florida State officer (Tom), both of whom are tasked with catching a serial killer.

"Fish in Midnight" is produced by Wallace, who is known for films such as "The Legends of the Fall" and "Braveheart." The film is set in Florida and is expected to be released in 2022.

Oscar-winning director McQueen returns to art with Tafe show

McQueen has returned to his artistic roots with a new exhibition called "THIRD album TO DIE FOR," which will open in 2021.

The exhibition will be held at the London's Tate Modern art gallery, offering visitors a chance to view McQueen's latest works. The exhibition will run alongside an exhibition of McQueen's previous works, giving visitors an insight into his career and evolution as an artist.

McQueen is known for his controversial and thought-provoking works, which often explore themes of sexuality, power, and the human condition. The exhibition is expected to be a must-see for fans of McQueen's work and for those interested in contemporary art.

London, 3 March 2021

The Academy Film Awards. — AFP

Academy Award-winning designer McQueen returns to art with Tafe show

McQueen's previous works, which have included sculptures, installations, and film, have been highly regarded for their innovative use of materials and conceptual depth. The new exhibition promises to be no exception, with McQueen exploring new themes and techniques in his latest works.

The exhibition is expected to run from March to June 2021, and will be followed by a comprehensive retrospective of McQueen's work, which is scheduled to open later in the year.

In this file photo British director Steve McQueen poses with the award for best film for "12 Years A Slave" at the BAFTA British Academy Film Awards, in central London, Sunday, Feb. 17, 2013. McQueen returns to art with Tafe show "THIRD album TO DIE FOR," which will open in 2021.

McQueen has returned to his artistic roots with a new exhibition called "THIRD album TO DIE FOR," which will open in 2021.

The exhibition will be held at the London’s Tate Modern art gallery, offering visitors a chance to view McQueen’s latest works. The exhibition will run alongside an exhibition of McQueen’s previous works, giving visitors an insight into his career and evolution as an artist.

McQueen is known for his controversial and thought-provoking works, which often explore themes of sexuality, power, and the human condition. The exhibition is expected to be a must-see for fans of McQueen’s work and for those interested in contemporary art.

The exhibition is expected to run from March to June 2021, and will be followed by a comprehensive retrospective of McQueen’s work, which is scheduled to open later in the year.

In this file photo British director Steve McQueen poses with the award for best film for “12 Years A Slave” at the BAFTA British Academy Film Awards, in central London, Sunday, Feb. 17, 2013. McQueen returns to art with Tafe show “THIRD album TO DIE FOR,” which will open in 2021.

McQueen has returned to his artistic roots with a new exhibition called “THIRD album TO DIE FOR,” which will open in 2021.

The exhibition will be held at the London’s Tate Modern art gallery, offering visitors a chance to view McQueen’s latest works. The exhibition will run alongside an exhibition of McQueen’s previous works, giving visitors an insight into his career and evolution as an artist.

McQueen is known for his controversial and thought-provoking works, which often explore themes of sexuality, power, and the human condition. The exhibition is expected to be a must-see for fans of McQueen’s work and for those interested in contemporary art.

The exhibition is expected to run from March to June 2021, and will be followed by a comprehensive retrospective of McQueen’s work, which is scheduled to open later in the year.
Sinead Burke: Thinking big in changing fashion industry

Despite her tiny stature, Sinead Burke has become a force to be reckoned with in the world of fashion design, becoming accessible for all. The 29-year-old Irishwoman, just 1.05 meters tall, has not gone unnoticed at London Fashion Week. Her designs for Burberry, some Christopher Kane, some Dior, some Balenciaga, some Victoria Beckham, some Gucci, some Prada, are all chosen for her wardrobe that she could have chosen straight from her closet. She wears some of the former Spice Girls outfits. "Before the Beckham show, Burke was wearing some of the former Spice Girls singer’s creation, donning a sunny yellow blazer decorated with a black floral and a straight brown skirt. That line is plenty more in her repertoire that she could have chosen from. There is some Gucci, some Prada, some Dior. She has not gone unnoticed at Fashion Week in February 2018, she introduced herself to British Vogue editor-in-chief Edward Enniful, tugging on his sleeve to conduct interviews with the new generation of designers, said Burke. "Change has to happen at the most senior level with the chief executive and creative directors but also with the new generation of designers. I would like to be a teacher forever and here we are, in a position that that collection would be marketable or commercial," she said.

"In a different way for the first time, so there is a mixture of how accessible and thinking about this industry when people were listening to design and commercial," she said. Burke hosts a podcast where she talks about the idea of this is not necessarily for designers to become accessible for all. The idea of this is not necessarily that collection would be marketable and commercial," she said. "More so that the young designers would learn from working with different types of bodies and take that forward into the companies they go on to work for. "There is still a long way to go to transform ‘the most exclusive industry of the world’ into one that that collection would be marketable or commercial," she said. Burke also collaborated with the Open Style Lab, an organisation which tests on creating wearable clothes for people with disabilities without compromising on style or comfort. "The idea of this is not necessarily that collection would be marketable and commercial," she said.

"But there is in the world today, there is already is familiar with, and make that a tool as customisation, which the fashion industry for a long time didn’t do," she said. Burke did not leave it at that. At London Fashion Week in February 2018, she introduced herself to British Vogue editor-in-chief Edward Enniful, tugging on his sleeve to conduct interviews with the new generation of designers, said Burke. "Change has to happen at the most senior level with the chief executive and creative directors but also with the new generation of designers," she said. "I thought I would be a teacher forever and here we are, in a position that that collection would be marketable or commercial," she said. "More so that the young designers would learn from working with different types of bodies and take that forward into the companies they go on to work for. "There is still a long way to go to transform ‘the most exclusive industry of the world’ into one that that collection would be marketable or commercial," she said.

“Change has to happen at the most senior level with the chief executive and creative directors but also with the new generation of designers,” said Burke. “I thought I would be a teacher forever and here we are, in a position that that collection would be marketable or commercial,” she said. “More so that the young designers would learn from working with different types of bodies and take that forward into the companies they go on to work for.”
Tourists walk past the Kasbah (ancient fortress) of Ait-Ben-Haddou.

A man stands atop the Kasbah (ancient fortress) of Ait-Ben-Haddou.

A view of the Kasbah (ancient fortress) of Ait-Ben-Haddou.

A man stands atop the Kasbah (ancient fortress) of Ait-Ben-Haddou.
Palestinians channel protests... Continued from Page 1

The Palestine Liberation Organization. Numbers grew after the campaign gained support from the Islamic group Hamas, which has been in power, especially in Gaza, where it has a strong following. Hamas spokesman Fathi Barhoum in Gaza, told Reuters the campaign was a bid to alert Palestinians to the Trump plan, and to force its announcement to West Bank settlements. In Nazlet - where crowds gathered for a protest held by the social activist, a popular image of a Palestinian woman holding a sign: “In the end, I made a revolution. What did you do?”

Some are resisting the changes, describing rallies as “examples of resistance” as ways to “show solidarity.” The pro-Palestinian protest organizers, however, depicted the protests as a rejection of the Trump plan, which they said was “a criminal coup.”

But in the end, it was a moment of hope for many who have long been frustrated with the political process. Demonstrators chanted: “The people want to bring down the regime.”

The protests were not just about the Trump plan. They were also about the need for change, and the hope that one day, there would be a different way of living in the region.

The day ended with a feeling of unity, as people stood together in the street, holding signs that read: “We are all Palestine.”

Syriapressesparessised'amidualfearsomassdisplacement

The UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs has warned that the situation in Syria could become a “humanitarian crisis.”

According to a UN report, the number of people displaced from their homes in Syria has reached 43,000. In recent weeks, the conflict has escalated, with reports of continued fighting and increased numbers of displaced people. The UN has called for a peaceful resolution to the crisis, but so far, efforts have been unsuccessful.

The UN has warned that the crisis could worsen if no ceasefire is reached to facilitate the relief effort. “Over the past four days alone, some 43,000 newly displaced people have fled western Aleppo, where fighting has been intense,” the UN said.

The UN has urged all parties to the conflict to respect the laws of war and to allow humanitarian aid to reach those in need. “The most urgent need now is for all parties to allow humanitarian aid to reach those who need it most,” UN representative to Syria, Mr. Robert Mardini, said.

The UN has also called for an immediate ceasefire to allow people to return to their homes. “The situation on the ground is dire, with many people living in makeshift shelters and without access to basic services,” the UN said.

The UN has called on the international community to provide urgent humanitarian assistance to those affected by the conflict. “The humanitarian situation in Syria is critical, and the international community must take urgent action to prevent a humanitarian catastrophe,” the UN said.

The UN has also urged all parties to the conflict to respect international law and to allow humanitarian aid to reach those in need. “The most urgent need now is for all parties to respect international law and to allow humanitarian aid to reach those who need it most,” the UN said.

The UN has also called on the international community to provide urgent humanitarian assistance to those affected by the conflict. “The humanitarian situation in Syria is critical, and the international community must take urgent action to prevent a humanitarian catastrophe,” the UN said.
Sport will rebound in China but coronavirus exposes flaws

Preparations for 2022 Winter Games in Beijing remain on track

HONG KONG: The coronavirus exposes an ignorance of Chinese sports and politics, and poor communication between the countries, according to a report in the South China Morning Post.

The report claims that the threat of the virus has drastically reduced the significance of sport in China, with all sport and event plans put on hold.

"While the West has seen football games canceled, in China, sport has been all but forgotten," said a source quoted in the article.

The report highlights the challenge faced by organizers in China, where the government has imposed strict measures to control the spread of the virus.

"In China, the focus is on controlling the virus," said the source. "Sport is a secondary concern."
NZ’s Taylor bats away retirement talk ahead of 100th Test on Friday

Will it be a party atmosphere for Taylor at Basin Reserve on Friday.

It will be a party atmosphere for Taylor at Basin Reserve on Friday.

***

WELLINGTON: New Zealand’s Ross Taylor will walk before an estimated crowd of 16,000 at the Basin Reserve on Friday, and the veteran batsman says he has no intention of winding down his international career to mark his 36th birthday.

Taylor became New Zealand’s leading run-scorer in Tests when he surpassed Stephen Fleming’s tally of 7125 against South Africa in last month’s Test, or his bow home fans in Wellington on Friday, he will become the country’s fourth century scorer for 100 Test after flowing Down. (Vizard and Brendan McCullum.

He will also become the first cricketer to reach the milestone in all three major formats. Finishing the week, he will have scored 13200 Test runs. He has also smashed his 81 Test centuries.

Give yourself something to chase. Goals aren’t everything but there’s a sense of pride when you go in different directions, to bring you back on track and give you a focus,” Taylor said in comments published by New Zealand’s Stuff media yesterday.

“I really hope that he can take it and finish in a good place,” Taylor said in a congratulatory call from former New Zealand test opener and coach John Wright.

Taylor’s World Cup final against England on home soil in October.

Hussey said yesterday he may not know exactly what

Taylor will be a party atmosphere for Taylor at the Basin Reserve on Friday, with New Zealand offering dreams of free tickets for his travelled family on the Travelling Trophy.

Till I get to look next year — the Twenty20 World Cup tournament starts on Friday.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.

Taylor said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor also said he was keen to be in the frame for New Zealand before for a maiden 210 World Cup title when the tournament kicks off in Australia on October 23.

Taylor was expected to be the last game for Taylor after England's final preparations

He said it was a nice time to relax, but at the same
time nice to retain those.
AC Milan eye Euro spots after Torino win

Kurdish women win big with Syria title

Lampard asks for Chelsea fights after United defeat

Hamilton, Messi share men's Laureus award

Leipzig keeper Gulacsi relishes Totten test

Berlin: chef Frank Lampard calls for ‘fight starts now’
Over the coronavirus.

after most clubs from China were barred until April

League yesterday.

against Melbourne Victory in the AFC Champions forward Park Chu-young scored FC Seoul's winner

victory over debutants Perth Glory, as former Arsenal

Rantanen added an assist before leaving with an appar-

Gabriel Landeskog had two assists for Colorado. Mikko goal, and Curtis McElhinney made 24 saves for Tampa apart in the second period, Steven Stamkos also had a puck from Avalanche All-Star Nathan MacKinnon,

Avalanche 4-3 for their franchise-best 11th consecutive

and the Tampa Bay Lightning beat the Colorado

Perth hearts

TOKYO: Leandro’s fine late strike gave FC Tokyo a 1-0

In yesterday’s later kick-off, Beijing Guoan are the

In yesterday’s later kick-off, Beijing Guoan are the

New Zealand Six Nations clash

Nearly 1,900 people have now died and more than

“We can’t deny visa to citizens of any country

The 26-year-old made space on the edge of the box

The 26-year-old made space on the edge of the box

TOKYO: Leandro’s late winner secures FC Tokyo a 1-0

Ireland Six Nations clash

Dear Stodynamics, Perd Hearty, as a former Stodynamics employee and a fan of the

All-Star Nathan MacKinnon. But for the Avalanche to Secure their place in the

“In recent seasons, we have been fortunate to see

Avalanche 4-3 for their franchise-best 11th consecutive

After being denied visas because of the coronavirus out-

They are not coming. Of course health concerns

One big issue, there are separate provisions for that.

“We can’t deny visa to citizens of any country

None of us would normally be allowed here but there

None of us would normally be allowed here but there

They are not coming. Of course health concerns

None of us would normally be allowed here but there

“Their quest to become the eighth player in NHL history to

T.J. Oshie sits at 697. Alex Ovechkin has scored 700 goals. Ovechkin sits at 698. T.J. Oshie

“Their quest to become the eighth player in NHL history to

T.J. Oshie sits at 697. Alex Ovechkin has scored 700 goals. Ovechkin sits at 698. T.J. Oshie

The 26-year-old made space on the edge of the box

the pads to win it with his 29th goal of the season. Alex

goal and an assist, Adam Henrique,

Talbot made 26 saves for Calgary, which is fighting for

Monahan also scored in the third period, and Cam

Gambrell, Kevin Labanc and Timo Meier, failed to get

Avalanche 4-3 for their franchise-best 11th consecutive

The Panthers, who have won eight of their past nine two goals, his 29th career two-goal game, and Jakub Vrana had two assists for Washington, which

The 26-year-old made space on the edge of the box

the pads to win it with his 29th goal of the season. Alex

goal and an assist, Adam Henrique,

T.J. Oshie sits at 697. Alex Ovechkin has scored 700 goals. Ovechkin sits at 698. T.J. Oshie

Three-peat 24 of the season), Mike Hoffman,

Three-peat 24 of the season), Mike Hoffman,

Three-peat 24 of the season), Mike Hoffman,

Three-peat 24 of the season), Mike Hoffman,

Three-peat 24 of the season), Mike Hoffman,

Three-peat 24 of the season), Mike Hoffman,

Three-peat 24 of the season), Mike Hoffman,

Three-peat 24 of the season), Mike Hoffman,

Three-peat 24 of the season), Mike Hoffman,

Three-peat 24 of the season), Mike Hoffman,

Three-peat 24 of the season), Mike Hoffman,